THEME OF THE AWARENESS PROGRAMME

“Reproductive Choice of Women: A Fundamental Right”

ABOUT THE TOPIC

Reproductive choice of women, as a social value, is yet a cherished legal and political goal at both National as well as International arena. Reproductive Choice of a woman stands upon a legal entitlement i.e. reproductive right. Reproductive right is a newly evolving concept struggling for independent Constitutional acknowledgment in most nations. Reproductive right owes its inception to a very wider and core celebrated feminist value i.e. procreative liberty of a woman. Procreative liberty, in the literal sense, is the liberty of an individual to decide freely and in a responsible manner, the realisation of his or her reproductive right. The term liberty counters any kind of unreasonable intervention in realisation of an individual's entitlement either by an act of the State or by that of any third party. However, liberty does never stand unfettered; and hence liberty of an individual is subject to collective interests, social and national interests and interests of others.

Women accounts half of the population of the nation and all-round development of women stands as prime concern of the nation as long as a nation is concerned of its next generation. Wellbeing of women is not just limited to equal guarantee of entitlement to women but even more than that due to their unique contribution of the human society in context of procreation. This becomes even more significant when we consider the presence of the element of past wrongs towards women, particularly in context of a nation with long patriarchal history. This proposition, when further added with other extrinsic hurdles, securing of gender justice more ardent. Such extrinsic element may include nations fallibility in guaranteeing basic human rights to man and women equally, presence of discriminatory elements in society like caste, creed, religion, language, birth place, lack of education, high earning differences etc. leading to a situation of double jeopardy of women. Thus, while women are already regarded as the vulnerable group by the international human right jurisprudence it becomes imperative to explore, emphasis and empower the complex women issues persistent in the society in practise.

Out of many grey areas that women have been accustomed to encounter since time immemorial i.e. procreative liberty or reproductive choice is still such a myth in absence of rigorous State regime to defend the women's right. Reproductive choice of women refers to the autonomy of women over her fertility against unwanted interference or imposition from Government or any other person. When Constitutional dogmas of gender equality and Reservation policy fails to secure equal participation and equal realisation of women's rights, it would be optimistic to presume that she is strong enough to fight for more crucial entitlement like reproductive choice wherein the men's society has a vested interest to defend. While the legal system of a nation does not revere reproductive right as a unenumerated individual fundamental right till date, it is a mere fancy that the legal system of such nation would be sensitive enough to acknowledge higher morals like women's reproductive choice with separate consideration outside the contours of right to general health and medical assistance.

Reducing women's reproductive choice and reproductive health within the generalised ambit of general health and medicine can have severe impact upon the overall realisation of the fundamental freedoms and basic human rights of women, since all human rights are interdependent and interrelated and cannot be appropriated independently. When women fail to enjoy reproductive choice, it ultimately ends up with violation of several other fundamental freedoms and human rights of women. Apart from this, failure of acknowledging women's reproductive choice has severe social impact as well. The common mass often miss-perceives women as a mere human breeder that ultimately corrupts the mentality of the society leading to indulgence in gender discrimination and finally ends up with crime against women and crime against common morality of the nation.

OBJECTIVES

- To encourage the discussion on ideologies linked with an agenda for women's emancipation and reproduction.
- To provide a special opportunity for collective learning about the reproductive issues related to women in Indian context.
- To ensure upsurge of different forms of discrimination, and its immediate impact on women's reproductive rights, external as well as internal.
- To develop theoretical knowledge on women's strategies and movements for protection and upliftment of reproductive rights of women.
- To spread awareness on the fact that Reproductive rights also allow women to make decisions on reproductive choice without force, discrimination, and violence.

Objectives of the Community Visit:

1. Provide Material Support: The primary objective of the community visit is to distribute essential food items to the residents of Apnagar-Abalamban Old-Age Home. This includes non-perishable food items such as rice, lentils, cooking oil, and canned goods, aimed at supplementing their nutritional needs and improving their overall well-being.
2. Assess Mental Health and Well-being: Another key objective is to gather socio-demographic data regarding the mental health and well-being of the elderly residents. This involves conducting interviews to better understand their psychological state, quality of life, social support networks, and any specific challenges they may be facing.
3. Provide Psychological Support and Counselling: In addition to data collection, the visit aims to provide psychological support and counselling to the residents. This involves engaging in empathetic listening, offering encouragement, and providing information about available resources for mental health care.
4. Promote Social Interaction and Companionship: The visit seeks to foster social interaction and companionship among the residents by engaging them in various activities and conversations. This helps combat feelings of loneliness and isolation commonly experienced by older adults living in institutional settings.
5. Raise Awareness and Advocate for Elderly Care: The visit serves as an opportunity to raise awareness about the challenges faced by the elderly population and advocate for better support services and resources. By sharing our experiences and insights gained from the visit, we aim to promote greater understanding and empathy towards older adults in our community.
6. Empower Students through Experiential Learning: Finally, the visit aims to empower the participating students by providing them with hands-on experience in community engagement and service. It allows them to apply their theoretical knowledge in a real-world setting, develop empathy and compassion towards vulnerable populations, and become agents of positive change in society.

OUTCOMES OF THE PROGRAM:

1. Applied Learning and Skill Development: The community visit provided an opportunity for B.A. Psychology 3rd Year students to apply their theoretical knowledge in a real-world setting. By engaging in counselling, therapeutic activities, and data collection, students developed practical skills in communication, empathy, active listening, and psychological assessment.
2. Enhanced Empathy and Understanding: Interacting with the elderly residents of Apnagar-Abalamban Old-Age Home deepened students' empathy and understanding of the challenges faced by older adults. By listening to their stories, witnessing their struggles, and providing support, students gained insight into the psychological and emotional aspects of aging and elderly care.

4. Professional Development Opportunities: Participation in the community visit provided students with valuable professional development opportunities. They had the chance to practice essential skills such as conducting assessments, designing interventions, collaborating with interdisciplinary teams, and advocating for mental health within the community.
5. Personal Growth and Reflection: The experience of interacting with older adults in a supportive environment facilitated personal growth and self-reflection among students. They gained a greater appreciation for the value of compassion, empathy, and human connection in promoting well-being, both for themselves and for those they serve in their future careers.

8. Increased Awareness and Understanding: The visit increased awareness and understanding among the students about the psychological dynamics of aging and elderly care. By interacting with the residents and witnessing their challenges and resilience firsthand, the students gained insights into the complexities of aging and developed empathy and compassion towards older adults.

By sharing their experiences and observations, the students raised awareness about the importance of addressing the mental health needs of older adults and advocated for better support services and resources for the elderly population.

PARTICIPANTS

The students of B.A. Psychology 3rd year participated in the community visit along with the two faculty members viz. Dr. Amrita Banerjee, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Psychology and Dr. Bijayanti Devi Haobam, Assistant Professor from FLA.

Reflections: The visit to Apnaghar-Abalamban Old-Age Home was an enlightening experience for the students. It provided an opportunity to not only contribute to the material well-being of the residents through the distribution of food items but also to gain insights into their mental health and psychosocial needs. The data collected will inform future interventions and support services for the elderly population.

Conclusion: As we concluded our visit to Apnagar-Abalamban Old-Age Home, we left with a sense of fulfillment and a renewed commitment to advocating for the mental health and well-being of older adults. The combination of material support and data collection allowed us to make a meaningful impact on the lives of the residents and further our understanding of the complex issues facing the elderly population. We look forward to continuing our community engagement efforts and working towards creating a more inclusive and supportive society for all.

A Report of the Seminar on Skill Development program titled as “Mole Day and National Chemistry Week”

Date: 7th November, 2023

Venue: The ICFAI University Tripura, Kamalghat, West Tripura

Organized by: Department of Chemistry, ICFAI University Tripura

Introduction:

‘Mole Day’ is celebrated annually on 23rd October from 6:02 a.m. to 6:02 p.m.. Mole Day commemorates Avogadro's Number (6.02×10^{23}), which is a basic measuring unit in chemistry. The week, 15th to 21st October 2023, is celebrated as ‘National Chemistry Week (NCW)’. NCW takes place on the third week of October and usually coincides with Mole Day. NCW is a public awareness campaign of the American Chemical Society (ACS) that promotes the value of Chemistry in everyday life. The Department of Chemistry has celebrated both the events on 7th November 2023 because 23rd October was Puja holiday.

Objectives:

- To highlight the significance among common people about the importance of Mole Day.
- To promote the value of Chemistry in everyday life.

FST, ICFAI University Tripura. Prof. Swarnali Nath Choudhury, Head, Dept. of Chemistry, FST, ICFAI University Tripura has discussed Mole and its importance in chemistry. Next, Dr. Amitava Sharma, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, FST, ICFAI University Tripura, has explained the fascinating world of 'Quantum Mechanics'. Dr. Tufan Singha Mahapatra, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, FST, ICFAI University Tripura, has discussed on the evolution of the 'Periodic Table'. Dr. Subhadip Roy, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, FST, ICFAI University Tripura has explained the importance of mole number in our practical life.

In this regard, ICFAI University Tripura, has published the 'CHEMINEWS', Annual Newsletter of Department of Chemistry. ICFAI University Tripura, has organized a quiz competition. In fact, there were two separate competitions for school and college students. Students have participated from different schools like Umakanta Academy (Bengali Medium), Umakanta Academy (English Medium), Sri Krishna Mission, Tripureswari Vidyamandir Gandigram, Kamalghat School and Netaji Subhas Vidyaniketan. Also, students have participated from different colleges like M.B.B College, Women's College, Govt. Degree College Dharmanagar.

Finally, Prof. Swarnali Nath Choudhury, Head, Dept. of Chemistry, Faculty of Science & Technology, The ICFAI University Tripura has delivered the vote of thanks.

Out Come:

Avogadro initially worked as a lawyer, but as he became increasingly interested of mathematics and physics, he went on to study them until he became the first university professor of physics in Italy. He became very famous from his hypothesis, in which he assumed that the equal sizes of different gases contained the same number of molecules at the same temperature. The number $6.02214076 \times 10^{23}$ "the Avogadro number" was chosen so that the mass of one mole of a chemical compound, in grams, is numerically equal "for all practical purposes" to the average mass of one molecule of the compound, in Dalton's. Thus, for example, one mole of water contains $6.02214076 \times 10^{23}$ molecules, whose total mass are about 18.015 grams, and the mean mass of one molecule of water is about 18.015 Dalton's. The mole is widely used in chemistry as a convenient way to express amounts of reactants and products of chemical reactions.

Generally, Chemistry is the study of matter and energy and the interaction between them, and sometimes is called the "central science" because it connects other sciences to each other, such as biology, physics, geology, and environmental science, and Chemistry scientists have made many chemical discoveries that have changed the course of life on the planet. These discoveries have been made over many years when scientists have been trying to come up with puzzling answers about nature.

Lecture Session

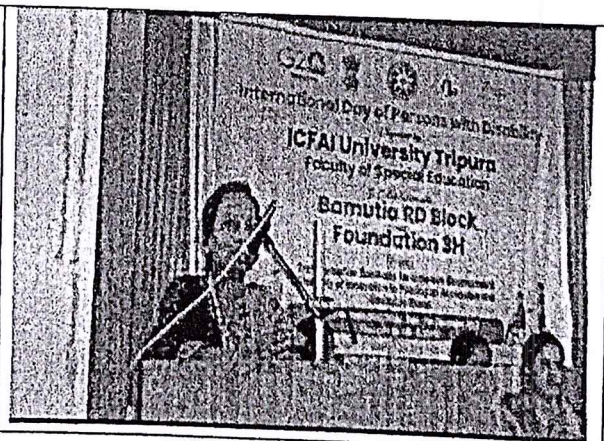

The event began with the welcome note by the host, lighting up the auspicious Diya and watering the plant. Dr. Saptarni Majumdar, Block Development Officer, Bamutia RD Block, Mrs. Shila Das, Chairperson, Bamutia Panchayat and Mr. Krishnadhan Das, Social Activist, were delivered their valuable inputs in the rehabilitation process. Details of the eligibility criteria to receive the certificate as a person or children with special needs was shared. The essentials of education for children with special needs was also discussed. The members of 3H Foundation appreciated the academic achievements of the students with special needs by distributing prizes.

Lecture by Dr. Silali Banerjee: I belong to a domain of training and education where human relation works more than anything else. Special Education /Rehabilitation studies not only create students, teachers and professionals, but also the society. In the era of Inclusive Education, more and more rights should be bestowed upon all those who are born with some kind of abilities. This is what I have been trying to make my students inculcate with all their hearts. And, to emphasize this, we organised a block-level awareness programme in Bamutia BDO Office where we involved several dignitaries and social workers. I wholeheartedly thank all the members of the ICFAI University, Tripura who stood beside us in this endeavour on the International Day of Persons with Disabilities, and promote this worthwhile initiative. I also extend our deepest gratitude to my friends in the media who came forward to cover this event and play a key role in spreading this awareness across Tripura. Our thanks also go to the members of Foundation 3H without whom this would not have been possible. Keep blessing us, so that we can move towards achieving our goals in the Rehabilitation sector.
