Introduction

Invited as a Resource Person in the National Seminar on "Handloom and Handicrafts: An Economic Perspective of Indigenous Products in North East India"

Seminar Overview:

The One Day National Seminar on "Handloom and Handicrafts: An Economic Perspective of Indigenous Products in North East India" aims to explore the significance of handloom and handicrafts in the economic development of the North East region. This seminar provided a platform for experts, researchers, artisans, policymakers, and industry professionals to share their insights, experiences, and research findings related to the indigenous handloom and handicraft sectors.

The National Seminar on the topic "Handloom and Handicrafts: An Economic Perspective of Indigenous Products in North East India." This seminar aimed to shed light on the economic significance of handloom and handicrafts in the North East region, showcasing their potential for fostering sustainable development, empowering local communities, and preserving cultural heritage. The North East region of India is renowned for its rich and diverse indigenous art forms, handloom textiles, and intricate handicrafts. These traditional crafts not only reflect the cultural heritage of the region but also hold immense economic value. They provide livelihood opportunities to thousands of artisans, weavers, and craftsmen, contributing significantly to the socio-economic fabric of the North East.

By focusing on the economic perspective, the seminar aims to address various key aspects, including the role of handloom and handicrafts in economic development, entrepreneurship and market opportunities, sustainability, and the revival of traditional crafts. Participants will gain valuable insights into successful models of economic development through handloom and handicrafts, innovative marketing strategies, and the role of technology and innovation in promoting these sectors.

The seminar also emphasized the importance of skill development, capacity building, and preserving the traditional knowledge and skills of artisans. By examining government policies and initiatives supporting the handloom and handicraft sectors, the seminar aimed to foster discussions on how to create an enabling environment for the growth and sustainability of these industries.

Report on

“An Institutional workshop on Self Defense Techniques”

On the eve of Swami Vivekananda Jayanti / National Youth Day

Date:- 12th Jan 2024 Venue:- IUT Play Ground

INTRODUCTION

Self-defense has been a familiar concept to everyone since childhood. We are all acutely aware of the current state of Indian society and the worsening condition of Indian women within it. The sense of unease is as strong as the danger-filled environment. Assailants, whose cruelty knows no bounds, pose a threat to individuals of all ages, from young toddlers to older men and women. It is essential for everyone to learn self-defense skills to protect themselves and fight for their lives without relying on weapons. It is our collective responsibility to become our own best protectors. As the saying goes. “Self-defense is not only our right, it is our duty.” – Ronald Reagan.

With this purpose, our Department Faculty of Liberal Arts had organized a workshop on Self Defense Techniques. Students from different departments participate in this workshop.

INAUGURAL SESSION

The workshop started with an inaugural speech by Mr. Uttam Acharjee (Self Defense Expert). He highlighted the key points why such kinds of workshops are required to sensitize our girl child/students to self-protect themselves in public places as well as at home. He also pointed out that this is the demand of the hour as we can relate ourselves to the news items of domestic violence, eve-teasing cases and other severe forms of violence against women and children which is pouring in on a day to day basis. He pointed out why it is necessary to attend and train oneself with this kind of workshop and training programmes. He said that having knowledge about self defense techniques not only helps defend but also it builds confidence in oneself. Mr. Uttam Acharjee demonstrates the different techniques Mr. Deepjoy Das, Ranajit Singha, Johan Tripura, Ms. Hantela Kasleya Tripura, Soni Datta, Rajashree Debnath, Kabita Kalai help him also to communicate with students.

He discusses so many techniques like Get Loud and Push back, how to kick, Movements, Punch, so many things.

OBJECTIVE OF THE PROGRAM

A self-defense workshop for university students should aim to equip them with practical skills, knowledge, and mindset to ensure their safety and well-being. Here are five crucial objectives such a workshop should focus on:

- Awareness and Prevention: Teach students to recognize potentially dangerous situations and how to avoid them whenever possible. This includes understanding personal boundaries, recognizing warning signs of aggression, and practicing situational awareness in various environments.
- Assertiveness and Boundary Setting: Empower students to assertively communicate their boundaries and say no to unwanted advances or threats. Provide techniques for assertive verbal communication and protection strategies to defuse potentially volatile situations.
- Physical Techniques for Self-Defense: Teach students practical self-defense techniques that are effective in real-life situations, focusing on simple yet powerful moves that target vulnerable areas of the attacker's body. Techniques should include strikes, blocks, escapes from grabs, and ground defense.
- Confidence Building: Build students' confidence in their ability to defend themselves by providing opportunities for practice and simulated scenarios. Encourage them to trust their instincts and make quick decisions under pressure.
- Legal and Ethical Considerations: Educate students about the legal and ethical aspects of self-defense, including the concept of proportionality in using force, understanding the laws regarding self-defense in their jurisdiction, and the potential consequences of their actions. Emphasize the importance of using self-defense techniques responsibly and as a last resort.

By addressing these objectives, a self-defense workshop for university students can empower them with the skills and knowledge needed to stay safe and confident in various situations they may encounter both on and off campus.

OUTCOMES OF THE PROGRAM

- Increased Confidence: Students will gain confidence in their ability to protect themselves in potentially threatening situations. This confidence extends beyond physical techniques and encompasses assertiveness, awareness, and decision-making skills.
- Improved Physical Skills: Students will learn practical self-defense techniques that can be applied effectively in real-life situations. These skills may include strikes, blocks, escapes from grabs, and ground defense, empowering students to respond effectively if they are ever attacked.
- Enhanced Situational Awareness: Students will develop a heightened awareness of their surroundings and the ability to recognize and avoid potential threats before they escalate. This includes understanding body language cues, assessing environmental risks, and recognizing the signs of potential danger.
- Empowerment and Empathy: Through self-defense training, students will develop a sense of empowerment and autonomy over their own safety. This empowerment is not only physical but also emotional and psychological, fostering a greater sense of self-reliance and resilience. Additionally, self-defense training can cultivate empathy and a deeper understanding of the importance of respecting boundaries and consent.
- Understanding of Legal and Ethical Considerations: Students will gain knowledge of the legal and ethical aspects of self-defense, including the laws governing the use of force in their jurisdiction and the importance of using proportionate force and defence techniques. This understanding enables students to make informed decisions and act responsibly in self-defense situations, minimizing the risk of legal repercussions.

INTRODUCTION

The term "extension activity" in mathematics refers to supplemental or extra work created to push students' problem-solving abilities and explore mathematical concepts outside of the standard curriculum. These kinds of activities are intended to give students chances to use their mathematical understanding in original and valuable ways, encouraging critical thinking, reasoning, and mathematical inquiry.

OBJECTIVE

1. To encourage students to enjoy mathematics and develop patience and persistence when solving problems.
2. To motivate the students in pursuing further studies in mathematics.
3. To increase interest in mathematics by highlighting different fun activities.

DESCRIPTION

The ICFAI University Tripura's Department of Mathematics organized an extension activity for the students of Lefunga High Secondary School in an approach to boost student interest in mathematics. It is difficult to draw a student's interest in a certain subject, like mathematics. Awards and other forms of motivation can draw their interest towards this subject. With this target the department of Mathematics of The ICFAI University Tripura organized this extension activity. Dr. Debjani Rakshit shared some inspirational anecdotes during that event. After that, Dr. Rakhil Das gave a presentation on the logical view of mathematics. Then the students of Lefunga High Secondary School participate in an open quiz session. We also organized a Mathematical game to increase mind body and intellect connection, which was played by the Lefunga school students. Five teams from Lefunga High Secondary School with 2 students in each team participated in this game and some students of The ICFAI University Tripura guided them as volunteer. Finally Prize distribution ceremony was conducted.

OUTCOME

- The students actively participate in the program thoroughly.
- Students learn many aspects of Mathematics.
- Students can feel the joy of solving mathematics using several interesting techniques.

DESCRIPTION

The ICFAI University Tripura's Department of Mathematics organized an extension activity for the students of DONBOSCO High Secondary School in an approach to boost student interest in mathematics. It is difficult to draw a student's interest in a certain subject, like mathematics. Awards and other forms of motivation can draw their interest towards this subject. With this target the department of Mathematics of The ICFAI University Tripura organized this extension activity. Dr. Prasenjit Bal shared some inspirational anecdotes during that event and represents the story of  $\pi$ . After that, Dr. Rakhal Das gave a presentation on the logical view of mathematics. Then the students of DONBOSCO High Secondary School participate in an open quiz session. We also organized a Mathematical game to increase mind body and intellect connection, which was played by the DONBOSCO HR. SEC. SCHOOL students. Three teams from Donbosco High Secondary School with 2 students in each team participated in this game and some students of The ICFAI University Tripura guided them as volunteer. Finally Prize distribution ceremony was conducted.

➤ INTRODUCTION ABOUT BLOOD DONATION :

Voluntary blood donors are the cornerstone of a safe and adequate supply of blood and blood products. The safest blood donors are voluntary, non-remunerated blood donors from low-risk populations. Despite this notion, family/replacement donors still provide more than 45% of the blood collected in India. Such donors are supposed to be associated with a significantly higher prevalence of transfusion-transmissible infections (TTIs) including HIV, hepatitis B, hepatitis C, syphilis and malaria.

For a safe blood service in our country, where comprehensive laboratory tests are neither possible nor pragmatic, it is best to switch over to 100% voluntary donations, as it is now established that only voluntary non-remunerated regular donation is the safest. Thus, one of our key strategies to enhance blood safety is to focus on motivating non-remunerated blood donors and phasing out even replacement donors. The key to recruiting and retaining safe blood donors is good epidemiological data on the prevalence (and incidence, where possible) of infectious markers in the general population to identify low-risk donor populations coupled with an effective donor education, motivation and recruitment strategy to recruit new voluntary non-remunerated blood donors from these populations. A pleasant environment in the blood bank, good donor care, polite and effective communication between staff and donors are all important factors for the retention of blood donors.

➤ OBJECTIVE OF BLOOD DONATION :

Voluntary blood donation is perhaps one of the most perfect examples of altruism in action.

- Ensure safety and quality of blood.
- Motivate and maintain a permanent well-indexed record of voluntary blood donors.
- Educating the community on the beneficial aspects of blood donation and harmful effect of collecting blood from paid donors.
- Actively encourage voluntary blood donation and gradually eliminate professional blood donors.

- Assists the various Organizations, Clubs, Colleges, Public & Private Institutions and the Public to conduct voluntary blood donation drives and arrange for motivational talks to enable progressively increase the number of voluntary non-remunerated blood donors every year.

➤ ELIGIBILITY TO BLOOD DONATION :

Any healthy adult, both male and female, can donate blood. Men can donate safely once in every three months while women can donate every four months. The universally accepted criteria for donor selection are:

- Age between 18 and 60 years
- Haemoglobin - not less than 12.5 g/dL
- Pulse - between 50 and 100/minute with no irregularities
- Blood Pressure -Systolic 100-180 mm Hg and Diastolic 50 - 100 mm Hg Temperature - Normal (oral temperature not exceeding 37.50 C)
