It is with great pleasure that we announce the celebration of Mole Day and National Chemistry Week organized by the Department of Chemistry, ICFAI Science School, ICFAI University Tripura, on 7th November 2023 at our campus in Kamalghat, Agartala.

We are honored to invite all students and faculty members to join us in this special program. Your presence will greatly enrich the event and contribute to the success of our celebration.

Event Details:

- Date: 7th November 2023
- Time: 10:30 AM (IST)
- Venue: Main Building Auditorium (Ground Floor), IUT Campus, Kamalghat, Agartala
- Organized by: Department of Chemistry, ICFAI University Tripura

We look forward to your active participation in this program. Your involvement will help make this event a memorable celebration of chemistry and its significance in our lives.

A Report of the Seminar on Skill Development program titled as “Mole Day and National Chemistry Week”

Date: 7th November, 2023

Venue: The ICFAI University Tripura, Kamalghat, West Tripura

Organized by: Department of Chemistry, ICFAI University Tripura

Introduction:

‘Mole Day’ is celebrated annually on 23rd October from 6:02 a.m. to 6:02 p.m.. Mole Day commemorates Avogadro's Number (6.02×10^{23}), which is a basic measuring unit in chemistry. The week, 15th to 21st October 2023, is celebrated as ‘National Chemistry Week (NCW)’. NCW takes place on the third week of October and usually coincides with Mole Day. NCW is a public awareness campaign of the American Chemical Society (ACS) that promotes the value of Chemistry in everyday life. The Department of Chemistry has celebrated both the events on 7th November 2023 because 23rd October was Puja holiday.

Objectives:

- To highlight the significance among common people about the importance of Mole Day.
- To promote the value of Chemistry in everyday life.

FST, ICFAI University Tripura. Prof. Swarnali Nath Choudhury, Head, Dept. of Chemistry, FST, ICFAI University Tripura has discussed Mole and its importance in chemistry. Next, Dr. Amitava Sharma, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, FST, ICFAI University Tripura, has explained the fascinating world of 'Quantum Mechanics'. Dr. Tufan Singha Mahapatra, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, FST, ICFAI University Tripura, has discussed on the evolution of the 'Periodic Table'. Dr. Subhadip Roy, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, FST, ICFAI University Tripura has explained the importance of mole number in our practical life.

In this regard, ICFAI University Tripura, has published the 'CHEMINEWS', Annual Newsletter of Department of Chemistry. ICFAI University Tripura, has organized a quiz competition. In fact, there were two separate competitions for school and college students. Students have participated from different schools like Umakanta Academy (Bengali Medium), Umakanta Academy (English Medium), Sri Krishna Mission, Tripureswari Vidyamandir Gandigram, Kamalghat School and Netaji Subhas Vidyaniketan. Also, students have participated from different colleges like M.B.B College, Women's College, Govt. Degree College Dharmanagar.

Finally, Prof. Swarnali Nath Choudhury, Head, Dept. of Chemistry, Faculty of Science & Technology, The ICFAI University Tripura has delivered the vote of thanks.

Out Come:

Avogadro initially worked as a lawyer, but as he became increasingly interested of mathematics and physics, he went on to study them until he became the first university professor of physics in Italy. He became very famous from his hypothesis, in which he assumed that the equal sizes of different gases contained the same number of molecules at the same temperature. The number $6.02214076 \times 10^{23}$ "the Avogadro number" was chosen so that the mass of one mole of a chemical compound, in grams, is numerically equal "for all practical purposes" to the average mass of one molecule of the compound, in Dalton's. Thus, for example, one mole of water contains $6.02214076 \times 10^{23}$ molecules, whose total mass are about 18.015 grams, and the mean mass of one molecule of water is about 18.015 Dalton's. The mole is widely used in chemistry as a convenient way to express amounts of reactants and products of chemical reactions.

Conclusion:

Swarnali Nath
Head
Department of Chemistry
FST, ICFAI University Tripura

Generally, Chemistry is the study of matter and energy and the interaction between them, and sometimes is called the "central science" because it connects other sciences to each other, such as biology, physics, geology, and environmental science, and Chemistry scientists have made many chemical discoveries that have changed the course of life on the planet. These discoveries have been made over many years when scientists have been trying to come up with puzzling answers about nature.

A Report on Seminar

"Communication Skills for Interview Proficiency"

Dated: 1st May, 2024

Venue: Room no ACEXC304, The ICFAI University Tripura, Kamalghat, West Tripura

Organized by: Department of Chemistry, ICFAI Science School, The ICFAI University Tripura.

Introduction:

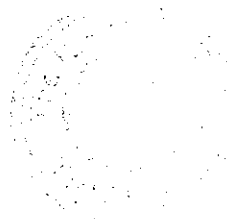

Effective communication skills play a vital role in achieving success in job interviews. It is not just about what the candidate says, but also how the candidate says it that can make a significant difference in how the candidate is perceived by potential employers. This seminar focuses on the importance of communication skills in interview settings and provides strategies to enhance proficiency.

Objective:

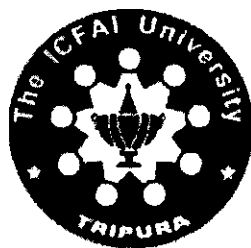

The objective of this seminar is to equip participants with the necessary communication skills to excel in job interviews. The aim is to highlight the importance of verbal and non-verbal communication, provide tips for conveying confidence and professionalism, and offer guidance on handling various interview scenarios effectively.

The Department of Chemistry has organised a seminar on "Communication Skills for Interview Proficiency" on 1st May, 2024. The seminar was hosted by Dr. Subhadip Roy, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry. The Welcome Address was also delivered by Dr. Roy. Then, Dr. Aditya Ghosh, Assistant Professor, Faculty of Liberal Arts, The ICFAI University Tripura has given a talk on communication skills. Dr. Ghosh covered various aspects of communication skills for interview proficiency:

Verbal Communication:

- Clarity and Conciseness: Participants are advised to articulate their thoughts clearly and concisely, avoiding rambling or using jargon that might confuse the interviewer.
- Active Listening: It is important to listen attentively to the interviewer's questions to provide relevant responses. Paraphrasing or summarizing the question before answering can demonstrate understanding.
- Effective Storytelling: Participants are encouraged to use storytelling techniques to illustrate their skills and experiences. They should structure their answers using the STAR method (Situation, Task, Action, Result) to provide concise yet comprehensive responses.

Non-verbal Communication:

- Body Language: Participants should pay attention to their body language as it can convey confidence or nervousness. Maintaining good posture, making eye contact, and avoiding fidgeting are recommended.
- Facial Expressions: Facial expressions should reflect enthusiasm and engagement. Participants should smile naturally and show interest in the conversation.
- Hand Gestures: Using appropriate hand gestures to emphasize key points is suggested, while avoiding excessive movements that may be distracting.

Professionalism and Etiquette:

- Dress and Appearance: Participants are advised to dress appropriately for the interview, reflecting the company's culture. Attire should be neat, clean, and professional.
- Punctuality: Arriving on time for the interview demonstrates respect for the interviewer's time.

Ganesh
Department of Chemistry
Faculty of Liberal Arts
The ICFAI University Tripura

- Courtesy and Respect: Addressing the interviewer(s) politely, using their titles and names when appropriate, is important. Participants should thank them for the opportunity at the end of the interview.

Handling Different Interview Scenarios:

- Behavioral Questions: Participants should prepare responses to common behavioral questions, focusing on specific examples from their past experiences.
- Technical Questions: Practicing discussing technical skills and experiences in a clear and concise manner is recommended.
- Unexpected Situations: Participants should be prepared to adapt to unexpected questions or situations. Staying calm and composed, and asking for clarification if needed, are important strategies.

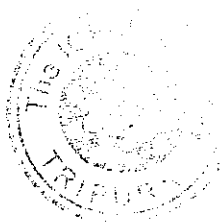

Outcome:

The seminar concluded with the following outcomes:

- Participants gained a deeper understanding of the importance of communication skills in interviews.
- Practical strategies and tips were provided to enhance verbal and non-verbal communication.
- Participants were encouraged to practice these skills through mock interviews and role-playing exercises.

Conclusion:

In conclusion, effective communication skills are essential for interview success. By mastering verbal and non-verbal communication techniques, demonstrating professionalism and etiquette, and being prepared for different interview scenarios, individuals can significantly improve their chances of impressing potential employers and securing job opportunities. The Department of Chemistry hopes that this seminar has equipped the participants with the tools and confidence to excel in their future interviews.

Introduction:

Yoga is an ancient practice that originated in India and has been gaining popularity worldwide for its numerous health benefits. Among these benefits, relaxation and mindfulness stand out as crucial aspects in today's fast-paced and stressful world. In this context, Department of chemistry has organised a seminar on "Yoga for relaxation and mindfulness" on 30.04.2024 to delve into the role of yoga in promoting relaxation and mindfulness, exploring its techniques and effects on the mind and body.

Objectives:

The objective of this seminar is to understand how yoga can be utilized as a tool for relaxation and mindfulness, and to explore its impact on overall well-being. The aim is to provide insight into various yoga techniques, their physiological effects, and how they contribute to mental clarity and peace.

The seminar was hosted by Dr. Subhadip Roy, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry. The Welcome Address was also delivered by Dr. Roy. Then, Dr. Subhashis Biswas, Assistant Professor, Faculty of Physical Education and Yoga, The ICFAI University Tripura has given a talk and training on Yoga. Dr. Biswas discussed various aspects of yoga for relaxation and mindfulness:

1. Understanding Relaxation: Dr. Biswas began by explaining what relaxation truly means. It's not merely the absence of stress, but a state of calmness and balance where the mind and body can rejuvenate.
2. Yoga Techniques for Relaxation (visually demonstrated):
 - Asanas (Poses): Certain yoga asanas are specifically designed to release tension from the body and calm the mind. Examples include Child's Pose (Balasana), Corpse Pose (Savasana), and Cat-Cow Stretch (Marjaryasana-Bitilasana) etc.
 - Pranayama (Breath Control): Breathing exercises such as deep breathing (Pranayama) help in regulating the breath, calming the nervous system, and reducing stress levels.
 - Meditation: Meditation techniques like mindfulness meditation and loving-kindness meditation help in training the mind to focus, promoting relaxation and inner peace.
3. Mindfulness in Yoga:
 - Awareness of Body: Yoga encourages practitioners to be fully present in their bodies, paying attention to sensations, movements, and breath.
 - Present Moment Awareness: By focusing on the present moment during yoga practice, individuals develop mindfulness, which helps in reducing anxiety and increasing overall well-being.
4. Physiological Effects of Yoga: Dr. Biswas discussed how yoga impacts the nervous system, leading to a decrease in the production of stress hormones like cortisol, and an increase in the production of feel-good hormones like endorphins and serotonin.

The question-answer session was particularly interesting where many questions sprouted from the audience. Lastly Dr. Subhadip Roy, Assistant Professor, Department of chemistry, The ICFAI University Tripura delivered the vote of thanks after the question-answer session was over.

Out Come:

The seminar concluded with several key takeaways:

- Participants gained knowledge of various yoga techniques for relaxation and mindfulness.
- Understanding the physiological mechanisms behind yoga's effectiveness in stress reduction and relaxation.

- Participants were encouraged to incorporate yoga into their daily routine to experience its benefits firsthand.

Conclusion:

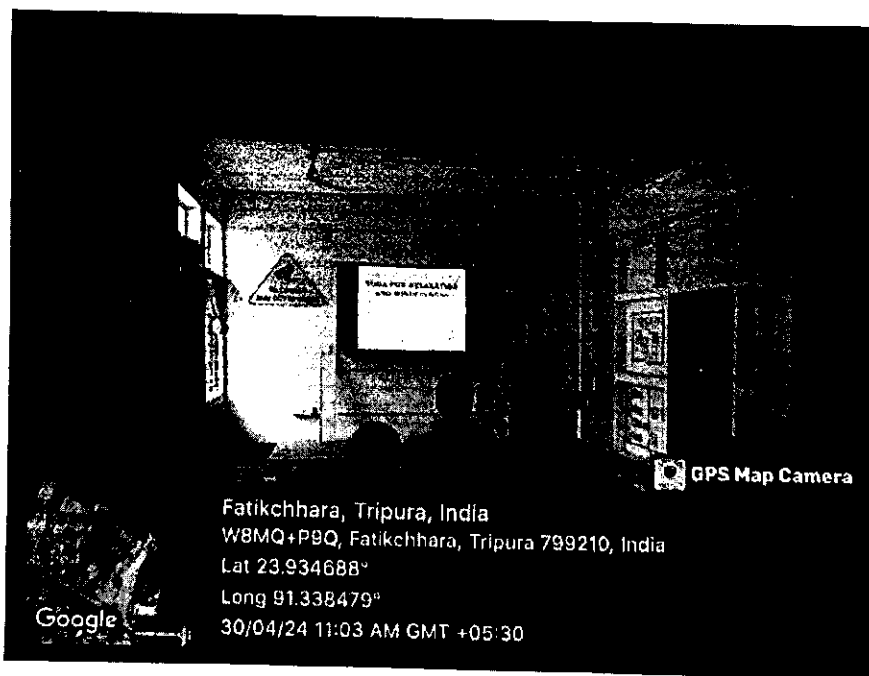

In conclusion, yoga offers a holistic approach to relaxation and mindfulness, addressing both the physical and mental aspects of well-being. By practicing yoga regularly, individuals can cultivate a sense of inner peace, reduce stress levels, and enhance their overall quality of life. The Department of Chemistry is hopeful that this seminar has inspired students to explore yoga as a pathway to relaxation and mindfulness in their own life.

A courses on Soft Skills (Course code: SSU354)

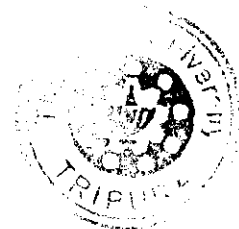

Venue: ACEXC304

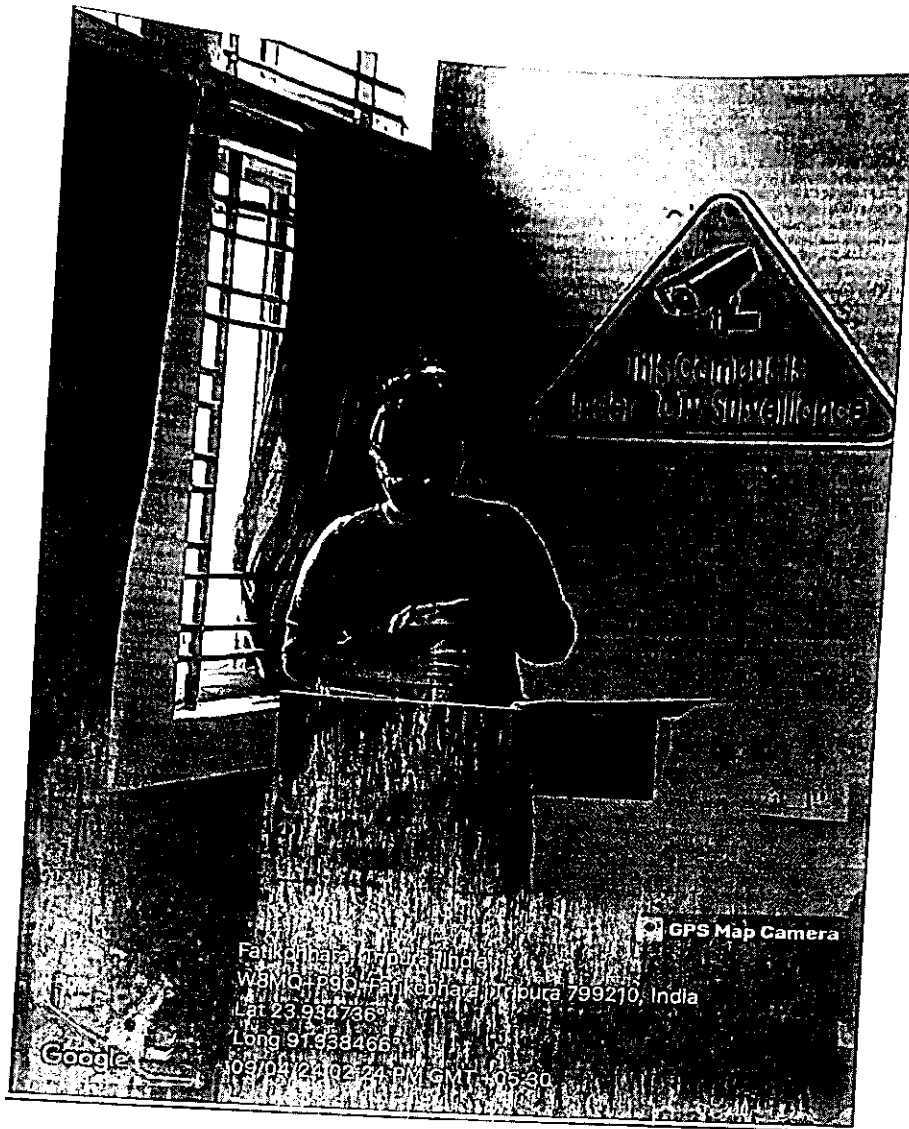

Introduction: It is a regular course, conducted as an integral part of the course curriculum for the B.Sc Physics, year-II students.

Objective: This course aims to develop the basic soft skills in the students. For example, communication and language skill is an important part of this course.

Outcome: The course titled "Soft Skills (SSU354)" is a part of the course curriculum for the B.Sc Physics, year-II. It is conducted by the Faculty of Science and Technology, The ICFAI University Tripura. In the academic year 2023-24, Ms. Debasmita Biswas was appointed as the course instructor for this course. Under his guidance total 31 students from B.Sc Physics, year-II have successfully complete the course.

A Hands-on Session on Yoga

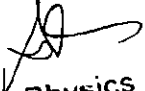

Date: 12.09.2023

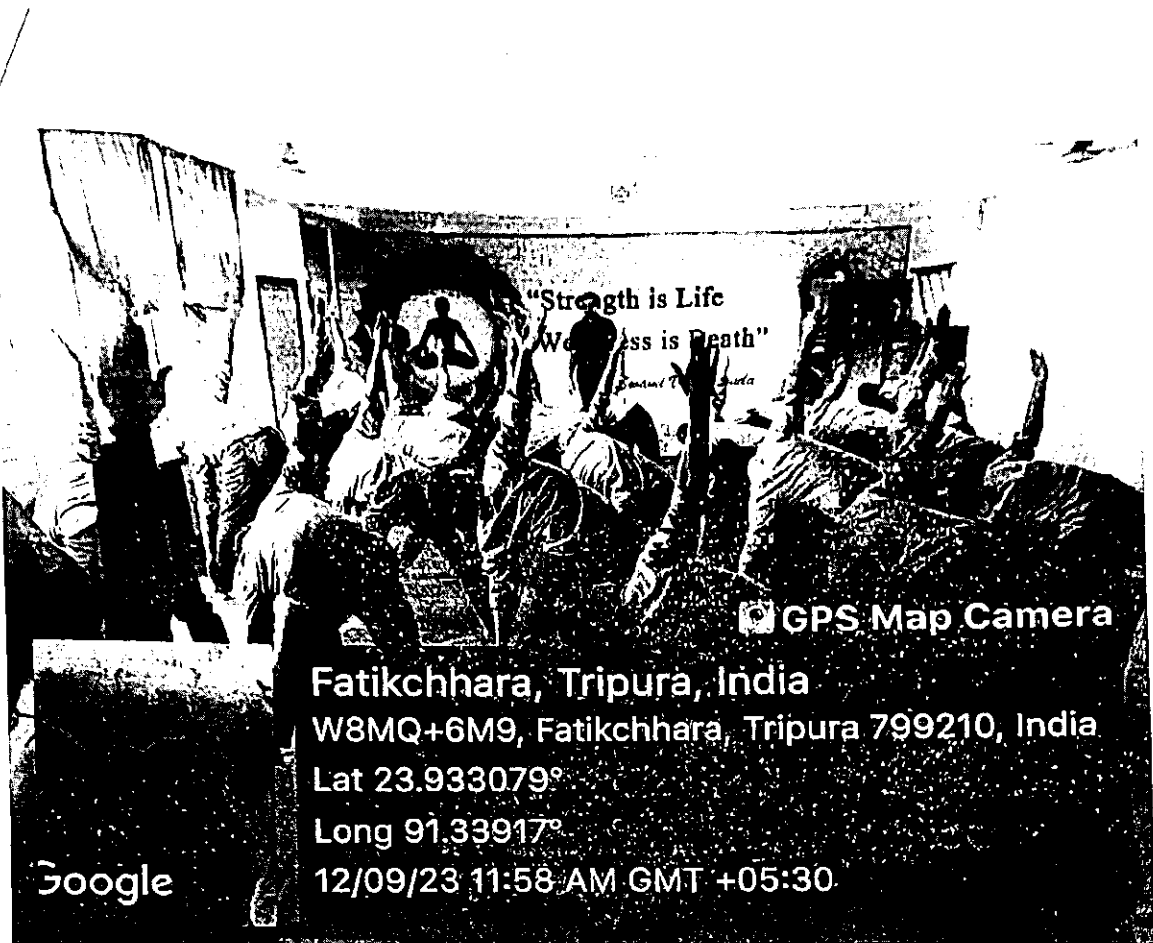

Time: 11.45 am – 12.45 pm

Venue: Rupen Bhowmik Yoga Hall, IUT

Objective: To make the students aware of various yoga postures and their benefits.

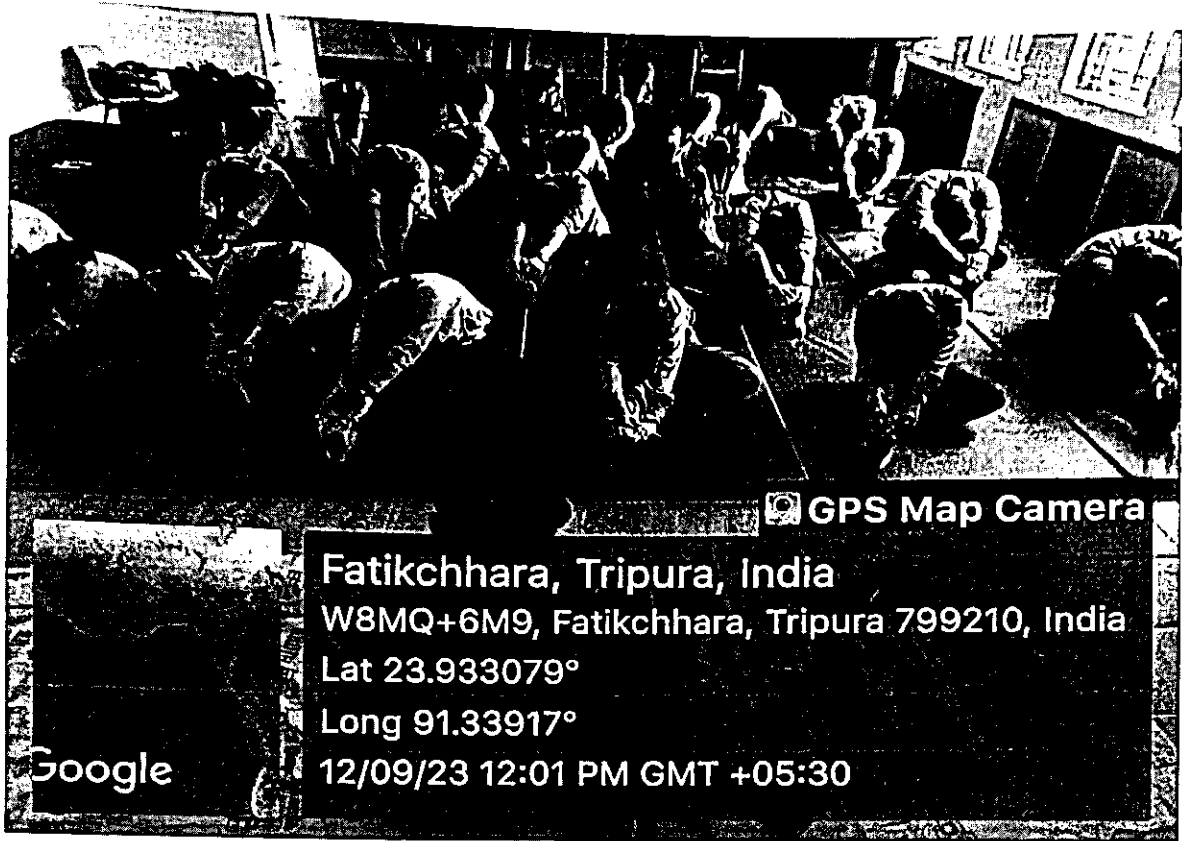

Outcome: A hand-on session on yoga was organized by the Department of Physics, ICFAI University Tripura on 12th September, 2023 for the students of B.Sc Physics from 11.45 am – 12.45 pm. The session was attended by all the faculty members of the department and 26 students from B.Sc Physics. The event was inaugurated by Dr. Sovan Ghosh, Assistant Professor, HOD, Physics followed by a brief introductory lecture on yoga. Prof. Prasenjit Majumder, Assistant Professor, Department of Physical Education and Yoga, ICFAI University Tripura, was the resource person for this session. He started with a quick summarization of the benefits of practicing yoga in our daily. The hand-on session started on 12.00 noon where Prof. Prasenjit Majumder demonstrated different yoga postures to the students. All the participants enthusiastically followed the steps and performed the yoga very well. Prof. Majumder started with some easy steps and slowly upgraded the level of hardness. The outcome of each yoga posture was nicely briefed by him during the hands-on session. Finally the session was ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. Gobinda Pradhan, Assistant Professor, Department of Physics.

Objective:

The objectives of the seminar are

1. To know what is ChatGPT.
2. To know how to use this AI platform.
3. To know how it can help in our present life.

Outcome:

By the end of this training program, the students will be able to know about ChatGPT:

ChatGPT was created by OpenAI, an AI and research company. The company launched ChatGPT on November 30, 2022. ChatGPT is a natural language processing tool driven by AI technology that allows us to have human-like conversations and much more with the chatbot. The language model can answer questions and assist us with tasks, such as composing emails, essays, and code. We can access ChatGPT simply by visiting chat.openai.com and creating an OpenAI account. Once signed in, we can start chatting away with ChatGPT. Get conversation started by asking a question. We can ask as many questions as we would like.

Inauguration of FLA Newsletter Memoir Bulletin Volume 3

DATE: 21.11.2023. TIME: 10 - 10.30 am

VENUE: Ground Floor, Main Academic Block, The ICFAI University, Tripura

INTRODUCTION:

The FLA Newsletter MEMOIR BULLETIN provides a platform to students, ex-students research scholars and faculty members of the Faculty of Liberal Arts, The ICFAI University Tripura to showcase their creative and academic pursuits through various modes of expression. Since its inception in 2022, the Newsletter has aimed to highlight the skills and abilities of the members of FLA, IUT by creating diverse verticals of contribution like Scripta (articles/ essays/ creative writings), Momenta (photographs), Da Vinci Corner (Paintings), Talents, Achievements or the Games Section. The Academic Year 2023-24 has been the inauguration and publication the two latest volumes of the Newsletter through an array of encouraging events.

On 21st November, 2023 the FLA family was extremely gratified to have a very special guest, the Honourable Governor of Tripura, Shri Indrasena Reddy Nallu, doing the honours of inaugurating the highlights of the 3rd Volume of the FLA Newsletter, in a short but momentous event, held at the Ground Floor, Main Academic Block, The ICFAI University, Tripura.

Objectives

- The event aimed to foreground the talents of the FLA fraternity.
- Such exposure and recognition is meant to encourage students and teachers in their cultural pursuits.
- It is further aimed to motivate students to undertake more creative projects in future.

Activity

Honourable Governor of Tripura, Shri Indrasena Reddy Nallu, graced the occasion with his presence and did the honours of inaugurating the highlights of the 3rd Volume of the FLA Newsletter, in the form of a Wall Magazine, at the Ground Floor, Main Academic Block, The ICFAI University, Tripura.

The event took place in the presence of Prof. Mousumi Biswas, Principal, FLA; the Faculty members of the FLA Newsletter Committee – Dr. Urmil Sengupta, Prof. Indrani Bandopadhyay, Prof. Guriya Paul and Mr. Manish Sharma - and the team of student volunteers. The words of appreciation of Sri Reddy emerged to be a huge source of inspiration for the students to work harder for the publication of the future volumes of the Newsletter.

Programme Schedule:

- 10 - 10.05 am- Welcome Speech delivered by Prof. Mousumi Biswas, Principal, FLA
- 10.05 - 10.20 am: Speech delivered by the Honourable Governor
- 10.20- 10.30 am: Inauguration of Memoir Bulletin Volume 3

Outcome

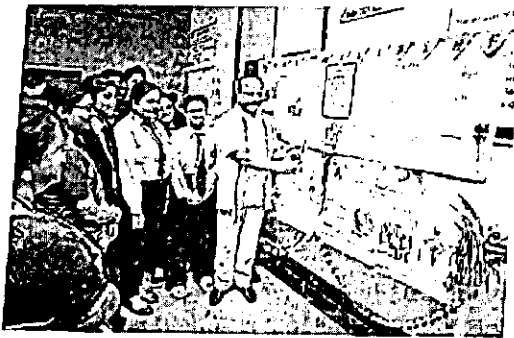

- The most important outcome of the event was the recognition and the eventual motivation bestowed upon those working arduously to make the Newsletter worthwhile.
- The presence and the appreciation of the Guest of Honour served as a huge source of encouragement for the teachers and the students of FLA.
- It is further laid the foundations of some appreciable collaborations, teamwork and creative projects for the eventual publication of Memoir Bulletin Volume 3 and 4 in March-April 2024.

Attendees / Participants:

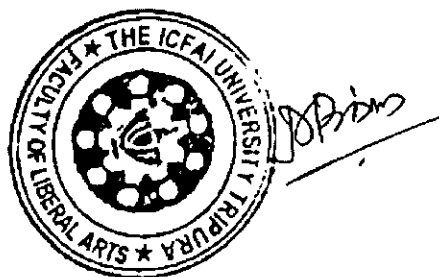

Along with the faculty members of FLA, the student volunteers of the Newsletter Committee were also present at the event. (Attendance sheet is attached)

A Report on Mock Interview for Placement for the Chemistry Students

Date: 1st and 2nd November, 2022

Venue: The ICFAI University Tripura, Kamalghat, West Tripura

Organized by: Department of Chemistry, ICFAI Science School

Introduction:

Interview practice can boost the confidence of the candidates for real interviews by refine their interview skills. A mock interview is a useful way to prepare for a real interview with a potential employer. Students are allowed to practice interviewing in a similar setting so they can feel comfortable with the environment. On 1st and 2nd November, 2022 the Department of Chemistry organizes a mock interview for B. Sc. and M. Sc. chemistry final year students to provide guidance and assistance for the students to achieve their career goals.

Objectives:

- Help candidates to reduce their stress and anxiety before a real job interview.
- Help the students to boost their confidence.
- To provide useful feedback in a low-stress environment.
- Help students to prepare for behavioral-based interview questions.

1	Mock Interview for Placement	01.11.2022 - 02.11.2022	9:30 am - 12:30 pm	110

Mock interviews are preparatory scenarios in which teachers give students the chance to experience a job interview in a safe, constructive, and familiar space before they start their careers. Interviewers (teachers) observe several key qualities that contribute to a professional first impression. (i) how the student introduces themselves, (ii) whether they shake hands, (iii) their eye contact, (iv) their verbal articulation, (v) Their body language, (vi) Any visible cues that might show they're nervous.

Prolonged silence is one of the most difficult and uncomfortable challenges that students can encounter. Long silences are generally interpreted as an interviewee searching their minds for an answer and coming up dry. If that's the case, it's almost always better for interviewees to admit that they don't have an answer than to stay silent for too long. Prolonged silence can give the impression that an interviewee is figuring out how to make up an answer instead of giving an honest one. And if a student gives the impression that they're lying or uncertain during an interview, it can be hard to bounce back successfully. If it is observed that students staying quiet after asking them questions, it's smart to note it so we can discuss it after the mock interview concludes. That can lead us to learn why the student was quiet, what may have distracted them, and how they can handle scenarios like that in the future

Outcome:

Freshers need to treat a mock interview session with seriousness and prepare well. For one, they can highlight their achievements apart from being proficient in their college / University curriculum. They can learn how to emphasise their strengths while presenting themselves in a dignified manner. Some simple traits to master include maintaining good manners and looking in the interviewer's eyes while talking. Any display of ability to solve problems is always a big plus point. Use the mock interview to practice the answers. Keep the answer as brief as possible. The questions asked during a mock interview are typically the more general employer interview questions that are asked during a first-round or screening interview. After the mock interview, the interviewer will review the interview with the candidate and provide feedback.

Conclusion:

A mock interview provides an opportunity to get a first-hand experience of the interview process. The interviewers are the individual who has fair experience in his or her respective field. The questions of a mock interview can be behavioural-based or skill-centred and aim to assess a student's capability and provide them with instant feedback. For one, going through a mock interview process helps to grow some confidence in students. It provides students with an opportunity to reflect on their non-verbal communication skills. It also allows interviewees to get a chance to make mistakes and work on rectifying them in a safe environment. The immediate feedback given will also improve students' problem-solving skills that in turn help them put forth their ideas in a better manner.

EVENT REPORT ON

Celebration of International Women's Day, 2024

TITLE OF THE EVENT: Celebration of International Women's Day, 2024

DATE & TIME: 08.03.2024. 4 - 5 pm

VENUE: Ground Floor Auditorium, Main Academic Block, The ICFAI University, Tripura

INTRODUCTION:

International Women's Day has historically borne the legacy honouring women and celebrating the power of women in the face of the gender inequality perpetuated by a patriarchal social machinery. The Centre for Studies in Sustainable Development, The ICFAI University, Tripura had therefore invited Dr. Urmi Sengupta, Assistant Professor, IUT to deliver a Special Lecture on this occasion - one that would resonate with this year's International Women's Day theme of 'Invest in women: Accelerate Progress' and explore the interconnections between the various Goals of Sustainable Development that have been highlighted by the Department of Economic and Social Affairs, United Nations in 2015.

OBJECTIVES:

- To foreground and celebrate the power of womanhood and explore the role of women in ensuring Sustainable Development within and beyond the boundaries of the nation.
- To sensitize an academic audience about the importance of gender equality and equity for the survival and sustenance of human civilization.

ACTIVITY:

Dr. Urmi Sengupta delivered a thought-provoking lecture on "Investing in Women: A Gendered Roadmap to Sustainable Development across India" connecting Sustainable Development Goals 3, 5 (Gender Equality), 8 (Decent work and Economic Growth), 10 (Reduced Inequalities), 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities, and 17 (Partnership for the Goals) with each other, which left a lasting impact on the minds of the audience. This was followed by an engaging discussion with the members of the audience on the topic in question.

EVENT OUTCOME:

- The lecture encouraged a thorough scrutiny of gender inequality within human lived experiences
- It created awareness about the contemporary relevance of various facets of gender equality in one's social life

The lecture opened up a space for some insightful discussions and critical engagements with the notions of gender equality and sustainable development and their correlations, among the esteemed members of the audience

ATTENDANCE OF THE PARTICIPANTS:The Members of Administration and the Faculty Members of the ICFAI University, Tripura were present at the event.

Dear Dr. Urmis Sengupta,

I am writing to express my heartfelt appreciation for your exceptional presentation on "Investing in Women: A Gendered Roadmap to Sustainable Development across India" at the Centre for Studies on Sustainable Development's Women's Day celebration on 8th March 24. Your insightful discussion, connecting Sustainable Development Goals 3, 5, 8, 10, 11, and 17, truly resonated with the audience and left a lasting impact.

I want to thank you once again for sharing your expertise and insights with us. Your contribution to the Women's Day celebration was invaluable, and I am confident that your work will continue to inspire positive change in our community and beyond.

I would like to suggest and request you to submit an article/Review paper on the topic, "Investing in Women: A Gendered Roadmap to Sustainable Development across India" to journals under UGC care list/Scopus.

I would also like to encourage you to submit a project proposal to UN Women India, Oxfam India, CARE India, Azad Foundation or Parimal Foundation or any other organization who works on gender equality and the empowerment of women.

You can also submit your project to international organisations like Global Fund for Women, Women's World Banking, Plan International, or to The Global Fund.

EVENT REPORT ON- Book Review Writing

TITLE OF THE EVENT: Book-Review Writing

DATE OF THE EVENT: October 12, 2023

VENUE: Classroom ACCB302

CONDUCTED BY: Literary Committee, Faculty of Liberal Arts

INTRODUCTION: A book review is a description and analysis of a book. The purpose of a book review is to heighten your understanding of a book and demonstrate an understanding of deeper meaning within a book. The four stages of writing a book review are: introducing the book, outlining its contents, highlighting parts of the book by selecting particular chapters or themes, and giving a detailed evaluation. It provides a summary of the content, assesses the value of the book, and recommends it (or not) to other potential readers. A book report is an objective summary of the main ideas and arguments that the book's author has presented.

A Book Review Event was conducted on 12th Oct, 2023 by the Literary Committee, Faculty of Liberal Arts, ICFAI University Tripura from 11.00 AM onwards. The Main objective of the event was to share the view of the book read and encourage the reading habit of the students. The books taken for review were Pride and Prejudice by Jane Austen, The Stranger Trilogy by Novoneel Chakraborty, Smokes and Whiskey by Tejaswini Divya Nayak. Faculties and Students of various departments actively registered for the book review event a total of 14 participants involved in the event.

OBJECTIVE:

Book review competition will inculcate the reading habit among students and enhance the thinking, analyzing and summarizing capacities of Students.

The following points to be noted to analyse a book review

1. How well does the book fulfill the promises the author makes in the preface and introduction?
2. How effective is the book's methodology?
3. How effectively does the book make its arguments?
4. How persuasive is the evidence?
5. For its audience, what are the book's strengths?
6. How clearly is the book written?

ACTIVITY: Book review Competition has been organized on October 12, 2023 at 11:00 am.

The students were asked to present book review on Books of their choice and interest i.e. fiction, biography, autobiography, books on travel experience or any other book except novel (not specifically related to any curriculum subject). There were 14 participants from B.A English Honours 2nd year Students, to present book review on select books. The students & faculty of literary Committee, Faculty of Liberal Arts, attended the competition in huge number.

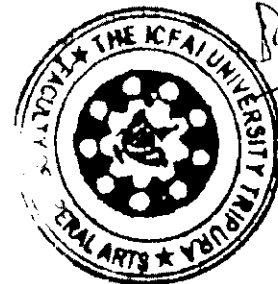

EVENT OUTCOME: To acquaint students about:

- 1) Central idea of book
- 2) Evaluation of book
- 3) Understanding how author handled subject.

Students will able to

- 1) Discuss the finding
- 2) Assess the strength and weakness of the book
- 3) Opine about the thoughts of author

Event conducted by: Literary Club, Faculty of Liberal Arts

Number of Participants: 18

Personnel involved:

Dr. Madhumita Chakraborty (Convener), Ms. Priyadarsini Ganguly, Mr. Prabal Dweep Debbarma

Introduction:

A Caption is a piece of text that generally appears beneath an image. It is used to draw the viewer's attention to something which is not readily visible within the image. A caption maybe a few words or several sentences.

Event Summary:

To imbibe into the students the love for literature, an event titled "Caption Writing Contest" was conducted on 20th February 2024 at 3:00 pm. The event was conducted by the Literary club, Faculty of Liberal Arts. The organising committee included Dr. Madhumita Chakraborty, Ms. Priyadarsini Ganguly and Mr. Prabal Dweep Debbarma.

The students were asked to write a caption for the following image:

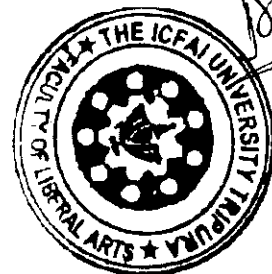

Image used for the Caption Writing Contest

Objective: Caption Writing shall allow the students to inculcate critical thinking and allow them to further analyse, summarize and judge what they see every day.

The following points to be noted while writing a caption:

- How well does the tone of the caption should match with the tone of the image?
- What do you want the viewer to think of image along with the caption?

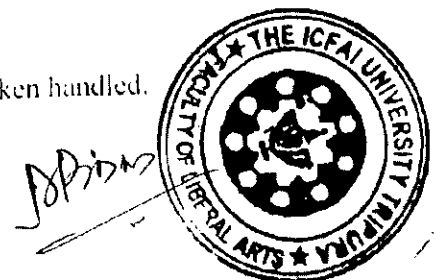

Students will be able to

- Discuss the finding.
- Assess the intricacies of an image.
- Opine about the thoughts regarding the image.

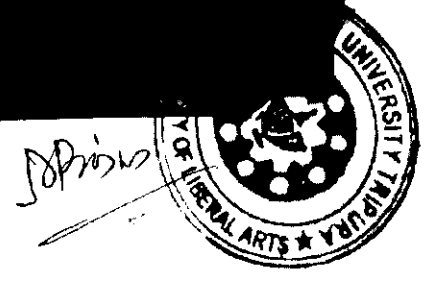

Activity: Caption Writing Contest has been organized on February 20, 2024, at 3:00 pm. The students were asked to present a caption for the image given to them in under 2 or 3 sentences. There were 18 participants from B.A. English 2nd Year and 3rd Year. The students & faculty of literary Committee, Faculty of Liberal Arts, attended the competition in huge number.

Event Outcome: To acquaint students about:

- Central idea of an image
- Evaluation of an image
- Understanding with what intentions the image had been taken handled.

NOTICE

Ref. No. IUT FLA/NT/24024

Date: 22.04.2024

This is to inform students of MA 1st year that as part of the of Internal II(Comprehensives, May 24) for Indian Writing in English (ENG 442) they need to translate 5 poems or 2 prose writings from local languages to English as an exercise of Text Translation which formed a part of the curricular corpus.

You are advised and encouraged to contact local authors of Tripura, to show them your translations of their published works which may be edited and/or amended by the authors themselves to their satisfaction favouring acquisition of a consent letter /translation agreement from the authors.

You are then advised to send the translations and other necessary details to Dr. Gitanjali. This will be an initiation to blended mode of learning, translation exercises and proximity with the literary intellectuals of present day Tripura.

Interested students do feel free to contact Dr. Gitanjali Roy.

EVENT REPORT ON- Translation of poem/ prose of Tripura authors

TITLE OF THE EVENT: Translation of published works (poem or prose) by authors of Tripura

DATE & TIME: End-term internal assessment (Internal II)

May 2024.

VENUE: Assignment submitted by students through mail.

INTRODUCTION: Translation of texts was taught as part of their curriculum- Indian Writing in English (ENG442). Students were asked to select an author of their choice and to collect their published works (5 poems or 2 prose writing). They were instructed to select poems written in any language other than English. They would then translate the text into English, get it checked by the authors, make necessary changes if the authors want them to make correction. After that they would sign a consent letter translation agreement form by the authors and submit the assignment through mail to the course instructor Dr. Gitanjali Roy.

OBJECTIVE:

1. To motivate the students for translation activities as part of their academic learning.
2. To initiate a blended mode of learning.
3. To enhance their knowledge on Tripura literature and authors.
4. To help them translate.
5. To explore talented writers from Tripura and to interact with them.

ACTIVITY: Students approached authors and have translated the published works of renowned authors belonging to Tripura.

EVENT OUTCOME: Students took keen interest on the assessment and did the translation in English.

ATTENDANCE OF THE PARTICIPANTS: 87 students of 1st Year.

BROCHURE OF THE EVENT: Students were informed in the classroom.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE EVENT: E-mail submitted by the students. The report is attached for reference.

Event Report on 'Community Visit (Old-age Home)'

Date: - 21st September, 2023

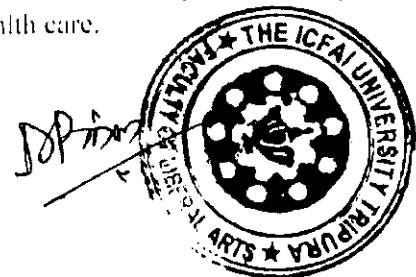

Venue: - Apnaghar-Abalamban

Introduction: On 21st September, 2024, the B.A. Psychology 3rd Year students from ICFAI University, Tripura embarked on a community visit to Apnaghar-Abalamban Old-Age Home. The visit aimed to provide both material support in the form of food items and to gather data regarding the mental health and well-being of the elderly residents.

Overview of Apnaghar-Abalamban Old-Age Home: Apnaghar-Abalamban is a reputed old-age home located at Airport Road, Barjala, Agartala. It provides comprehensive care and support services to elderly individuals who require assistance with daily living activities. The facility is known for its commitment to the well-being and dignity of its residents.

Activities and Interactions: The visit began with a warm welcome from the staff of Apnaghar-Abalamban, who facilitated the distribution of food items brought by the students. The students had collected non-perishable food items such as rice, lentils, cooking oil, and canned goods to contribute to the residents' well-being.

- 1. Distribution of Food Items: The students distributed the food items to the residents, ensuring that each individual received a sufficient supply. The gesture was met with gratitude and appreciation from the residents.
- 2. Data Collection on Socio-demographic variables to ascertain Mental Health and Well-being of the residents: In addition to distributing food items, the students conducted surveys and interviews to gather data regarding the mental health and well-being of the elderly residents. The surveys included questions related to their psychological state, quality of life, social support, and any specific challenges they may be facing.
- 3. Psychological Support and Counselling: As part of the data collection process, the students and the faculty also provided psychological support and counselling to the residents. They engaged in empathetic listening, offered encouragement, and provided information about available resources for mental health care.

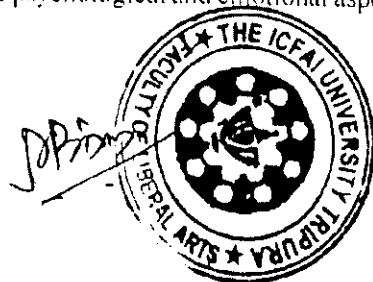

Objectives of the Community Visit:

1. Provide Material Support: The primary objective of the community visit is to distribute essential food items to the residents of Apnagar-Abalamban Old-Age Home. This includes non-perishable food items such as rice, lentils, cooking oil, and canned goods, aimed at supplementing their nutritional needs and improving their overall well-being.
2. Assess Mental Health and Well-being: Another key objective is to gather socio-demographic data regarding the mental health and well-being of the elderly residents. This involves conducting interviews to better understand their psychological state, quality of life, social support networks, and any specific challenges they may be facing.
3. Provide Psychological Support and Counselling: In addition to data collection, the visit aims to provide psychological support and counselling to the residents. This involves engaging in empathetic listening, offering encouragement, and providing information about available resources for mental health care.
4. Promote Social Interaction and Companionship: The visit seeks to foster social interaction and companionship among the residents by engaging them in various activities and conversations. This helps combat feelings of loneliness and isolation commonly experienced by older adults living in institutional settings.
5. Raise Awareness and Advocate for Elderly Care: The visit serves as an opportunity to raise awareness about the challenges faced by the elderly population and advocate for better support services and resources. By sharing our experiences and insights gained from the visit, we aim to promote greater understanding and empathy towards older adults in our community.
6. Empower Students through Experiential Learning: Finally, the visit aims to empower the participating students by providing them with hands-on experience in community engagement and service. It allows them to apply their theoretical knowledge in a real-world setting, develop empathy and compassion towards vulnerable populations, and become agents of positive change in society.

OUTCOMES OF THE PROGRAM:

1. Applied Learning and Skill Development: The community visit provided an opportunity for B.A. Psychology 3rd Year students to apply their theoretical knowledge in a real-world setting. By engaging in counselling, therapeutic activities, and data collection, students developed practical skills in communication, empathy, active listening, and psychological assessment.
2. Enhanced Empathy and Understanding: Interacting with the elderly residents of Apnagar-Abalamban Old-Age Home deepened students' empathy and understanding of the challenges faced by older adults. By listening to their stories, witnessing their struggles, and providing support, students gained insight into the psychological and emotional aspects of aging and elderly care.

3. Increased Awareness of Aging Issues: The visit raised students' awareness of the multifaceted issues related to aging and elderly care. Through direct engagement with the residents, students gained knowledge about the physical, cognitive, emotional, and social dimensions of aging, as well as the importance of promoting mental health and well-being in older adults.
4. Professional Development Opportunities: Participation in the community visit provided students with valuable professional development opportunities. They had the chance to practice essential skills such as conducting assessments, designing interventions, collaborating with interdisciplinary teams, and advocating for mental health within the community.
5. Personal Growth and Reflection: The experience of interacting with older adults in a supportive environment facilitated personal growth and self-reflection among students. They gained a greater appreciation for the value of compassion, empathy, and human connection in promoting well-being, both for themselves and for those they serve in their future careers.
6. Sense of Contribution and Fulfillment: Engaging in meaningful activities and providing support to the residents of Apnaghar-Abalamban Old-Age Home instilled a sense of contribution and fulfillment among students. Knowing that their efforts had a positive impact on the lives of others reinforced their commitment to serving the community and making a difference in the world.
7. Building Community Partnerships: The community visit facilitated the establishment of partnerships between students and the staff of Apnaghar-Abalamban Old-Age Home. By working together to support the residents, students gained valuable insights into the importance of collaboration and teamwork in addressing complex social and psychological issues within the community.
8. Increased Awareness and Understanding: The visit increased awareness and understanding among the students about the psychological dynamics of aging and elderly care. By interacting with the residents and witnessing their challenges and resilience firsthand, the students gained insights into the complexities of aging and developed empathy and compassion towards older adults.
9. Advocacy for Mental Health and Elderly Care: The visit served as a platform for advocacy for mental health and elderly care within the community. By sharing their experiences and observations, the students raised awareness about the importance of addressing the mental health needs of older adults and advocated for better support services and resources for the elderly population.

PARTICIPANTS

The students of B.A. Psychology 3rd year participated in the community visit along with the two faculty members viz. Dr. Amrita Banerjee, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Psychology and Dr. Bijayanti Devi Haobam, Assistant Professor from FLA.

Reflections: The visit to Apnaghar-Abalamban Old-Age Home was an enlightening experience for the students. It provided an opportunity to not only contribute to the material well-being of the residents through the distribution of food items but also to gain insights into their mental health and psychosocial needs. The data collected will inform future interventions and support services for the elderly population.

Conclusion: As we concluded our visit to Apnagar-Abalamban Old-Age Home, we left with a sense of fulfillment and a renewed commitment to advocating for the mental health and well-being of older adults. The combination of material support and data collection allowed us to make a meaningful impact on the lives of the residents and further our understanding of the complex issues facing the elderly population. We look forward to continuing our community engagement efforts and working towards creating a more inclusive and supportive society for all.

A REPORT ON CULTURAL EVENT ON "Yoga Workshop" ORGANIZED BY THE FACULTY OF LIBERAL ARTS

DATE- 01/12/2023

TIME- 10.00 A.M - 11:00.AM

VENUE- Yoga Hall, B.Ed Building

INTRODUCTION:

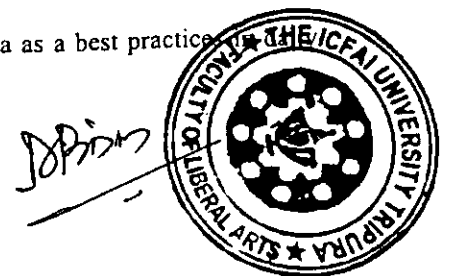

A few minutes of Yoga during the day can be a great way to get rid of stress that accumulates daily, in both, body and the mind. Yoga postures, Pranayama and meditation are effective techniques to release stress. Meditation is relaxation and rejuvenates the body and mind. With this aim in mind, a workshop was organised on 1st of December, 2023, for the students of BA English (H) 3rd Year. The yoga instructor, Prof. Prasenjit Majumder, from Faculty of Physical Education, ICFAI University Tripura took yoga session with great dedication. Apart from students, few teachers also took interest and participated with full interest, enthusiasm and eagerness.

The session began by seeking the blessings of the Almighty. Asanas starting with warming up and stretching were followed by a series of Padmasanas, Sukhasana, Tadasana, Bhujang Asana and ending with Shavasana. Exercises for relieving stress, reducing joint pain and enhancing the flexibility of the back were also done for the benefit of the teachers.

At last, professors motivated the students and conveyed the importance of making yoga an integral part of their daily life by extending the practice of yoga beyond the mat. The session concluded with an interactive session between the instructor and the students in which the queries of the students were addressed satisfactorily. The session was very refreshing, reviving and relaxing.

OBJECTIVE OF THE PROGRAM:

- To motivate students for Yoga practices and healthy life
- Through this cultural event, a batch of students were introduced to cultural environment of the department
- To motivate students in participating on extra-curriculum activities related to special occasion in future
- To find valuable insights from the resource person about yoga as a best practice in life.

NO OF PARTICIPANTS:

25 students have participated in the mentioned workshop on Yoga from BA English (II) 3rd Year batch of Faculty of Liberal Arts. Besides, around 5 Faculties from different discipline have attended the event.

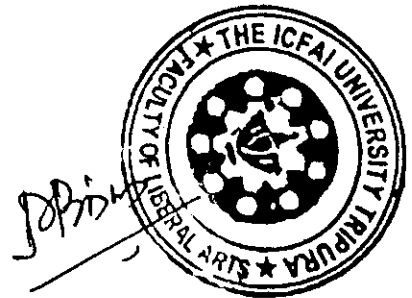

OUTCOME OF THE PROGRAM:

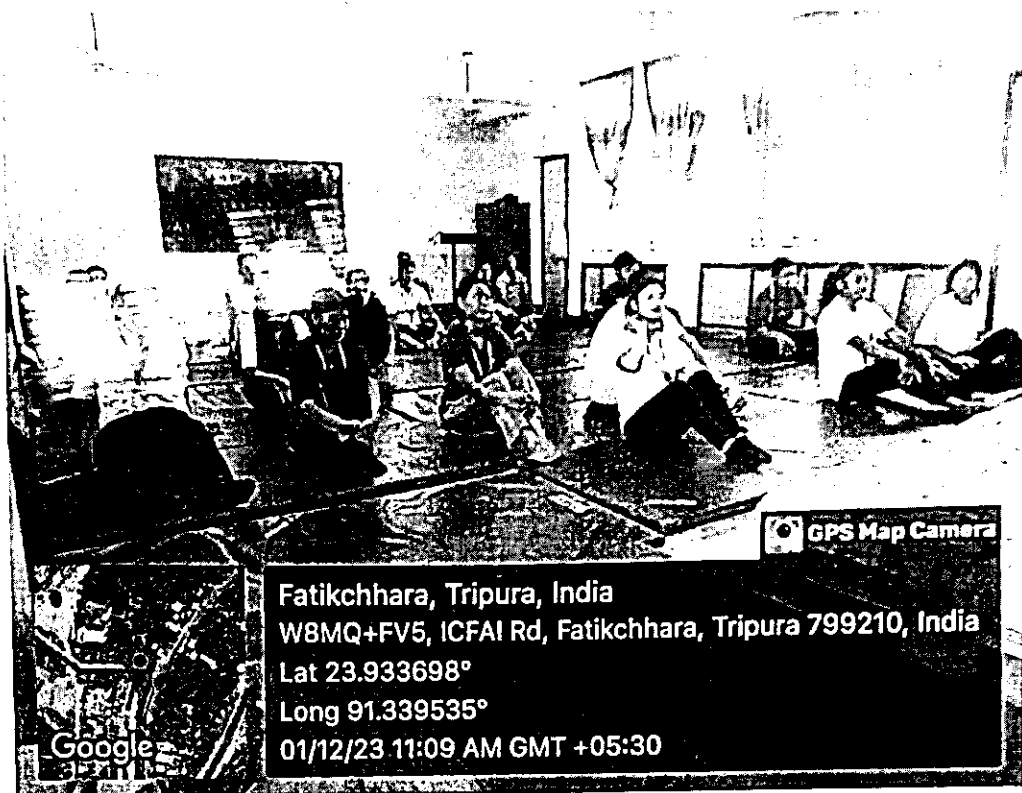

- Students learned about the importance of Yoga in daily life.
- Students queries were addressed satisfactorily by the respected resource person.
- The event was in essence, keeping with the spirit of Liberal Arts became a fruitful one from all angles.

Report on

“An Institutional workshop on Self Defense Techniques”

On the eve of Swami Vivekananda Jayanti / National Youth Day

Date:- 12th Jan 2024 Venue:- IUT Play Ground

INTRODUCTION

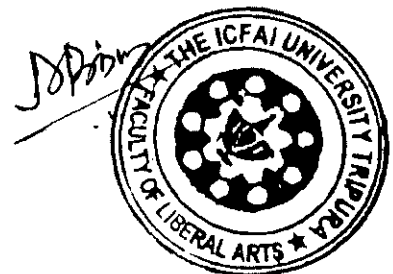

Self-defense has been a familiar concept to everyone since childhood. We are all acutely aware of the current state of Indian society and the worsening condition of Indian women within it. The sense of unease is as strong as the danger-filled environment. Assailants, whose cruelty knows no bounds, pose a threat to individuals of all ages, from young toddlers to older men and women. It is essential for everyone to learn self-defense skills to protect themselves and fight for their lives without relying on weapons. It is our collective responsibility to become our own best protectors. As the saying goes, “Self-defense is not only our right, it is our duty.” – Ronald Reagan.

With this purpose, our Department Faculty of Liberal Arts had organized a workshop on Self Defense Techniques. Students from different departments participate in this workshop.

INAUGURAL SESSION

The workshop started with an inaugural speech by Mr. Uttam Acharjee (Self Defense Expert). He highlighted the key points why such kinds of workshops are required to sensitize our girl child/students to self-protect themselves in public places as well as at home. He also pointed out that this is the demand of the hour as we can relate ourselves to the news items of domestic violence, eve-teasing cases and other severe forms of violence against women and children which is pouring in on a day to day basis. He pointed out why it is necessary to attend and train oneself with this kind of workshop and training programmes. He said that having knowledge about self defense techniques not only helps defend but also it builds confidence in oneself. Mr. Uttam Acharjee demonstrates the different techniques Mr. Deepjoy Das, Ranajit Singha, Johan Tripura, Ms. Hantela Kusleya Tripura, Soni Datta, Rajashree Debnath, Kabita Kalai help him also to communicate with students.

He discusses so many techniques like Get Loud and Push back, how to kick, Movements, Punch, so many things.

OBJECTIVE OF THE PROGRAM

A self-defense workshop for university students should aim to equip them with practical skills, knowledge, and mindset to ensure their safety and well-being. Here are five crucial objectives such a workshop should focus on:

- Awareness and Prevention: Teach students to recognize potentially dangerous situations and how to avoid them whenever possible. This includes understanding personal boundaries, recognizing warning signs of aggression, and practicing situational awareness in various environments.
- Assertiveness and Boundary Setting: Empower students to assertively communicate their boundaries and say no to unwanted advances or threats. Provide techniques for assertive verbal communication and protection strategies to defuse potentially volatile situations.
- Physical Techniques for Self-Defense: Teach students practical self-defense techniques that are effective in real-life situations, focusing on simple yet powerful moves that target vulnerable areas of the attacker's body. Techniques should include strikes, blocks, escapes from grabs, and ground defense.
- Confidence Building: Build students' confidence in their ability to defend themselves by providing opportunities for practice and simulated scenarios. Encourage them to trust their instincts and make quick decisions under pressure.
- Legal and Ethical Considerations: Educate students about the legal and ethical aspects of self-defense, including the concept of proportionality in using force, understanding the laws regarding self-defense in their jurisdiction, and the potential consequences of their actions. Emphasize the importance of using self-defense techniques responsibly and as a last resort.

By addressing these objectives, a self-defense workshop for university students can empower them with the skills and knowledge needed to stay safe and confident in various situations they may encounter both on and off campus.

OUTCOMES OF THE PROGRAM

- Increased Confidence: Students will gain confidence in their ability to protect themselves in potentially threatening situations. This confidence extends beyond physical techniques and encompasses assertiveness, awareness, and decision-making skills.
- Improved Physical Skills: Students will learn practical self-defense techniques that can be applied effectively in real-life situations. These skills may include strikes, blocks, escapes from grabs, and ground defense, empowering students to respond effectively if they are ever attacked.
- Enhanced Situational Awareness: Students will develop a heightened awareness of their surroundings and the ability to recognize and avoid potential threats before they escalate. This includes understanding body language cues, assessing environmental risks, and recognizing the signs of potential danger.
- Empowerment and Empathy: Through self-defense training, students will develop a sense of empowerment and autonomy over their own safety. This empowerment is not only physical but also emotional and psychological, fostering a greater sense of self-reliance and resilience. Additionally, self-defense training can cultivate empathy and a deeper understanding of the importance of respecting boundaries and consent.
- Understanding of Legal and Ethical Considerations: Students will gain knowledge of the legal and ethical aspects of self-defense, including the laws governing the use of force in their jurisdiction and the importance of using proportionate force and defence techniques. This understanding enables students to make informed decisions and act responsibly in self-defense situations, minimizing the risk of legal repercussions.

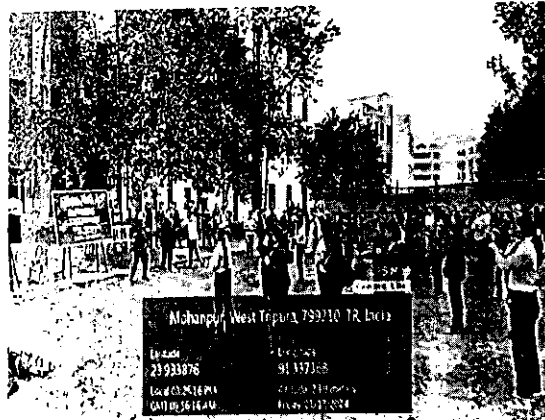

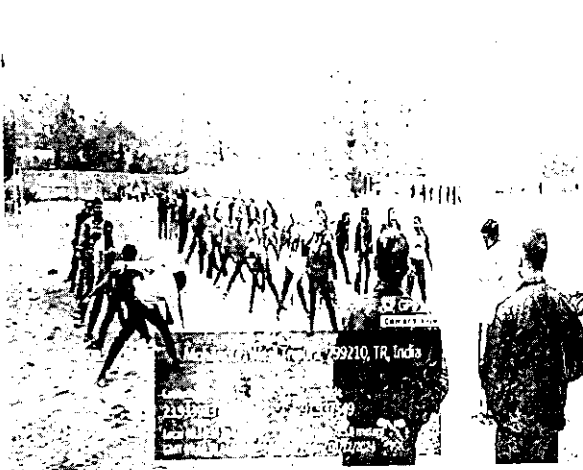

PARTICIPANTS

Faculty members and Students from different departments participated in this workshop. The Dean, Academic Affair, The ICFAI University, Tripura Prof.(Dr.) Subhasish Chaterjee, and the Principal, FLA Prof. Mousumi Biswas attended the workshop.

Conclusion

The vote of thanks was delivered by Prof. Dipsundar Datta (FLA), expressing his gratitude to Mr. Uttam Acharjee and his team for successful completion of the workshop.

A Report on LECTURE SESSION ON
"RURAL BANKING & MICROFINANCE"

Organized By: The ICFAI University, Tripura
Faculty of Management & Commerce

Date: 22nd March 2024

Venue: Class Room No. 423, IUT

Brief of the Programme

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY:

Institute of Chartered Financial Analysts of India, Tripura (www.icfaiversity.edu.in) popularly known as The ICAI University, Tripura has been established through an act of the state legislature (Tripura State Legislature Act 8 of 2004). The University is recognized by UGC under Section 2 (f) of 1956 and the university is empowered to award degrees under section 22 of UGC Act, 1956. The University is currently offering 52 (fifty two) programs in Management, Commerce, Engineering, Law, Teacher education, Special Education, Physical Education, English, Yoga and Library Science etc. The University strives to provide quality education with an objective to provide the students with an appropriate combination of conceptual framework and practical insight into managerial, technological, legal challenges as well as business opportunities for grooming entrepreneurial initiatives. It also provides exposure to real business problems and situations through industrial visits to different business sectors, case-studies and industrial interactions.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAMME:

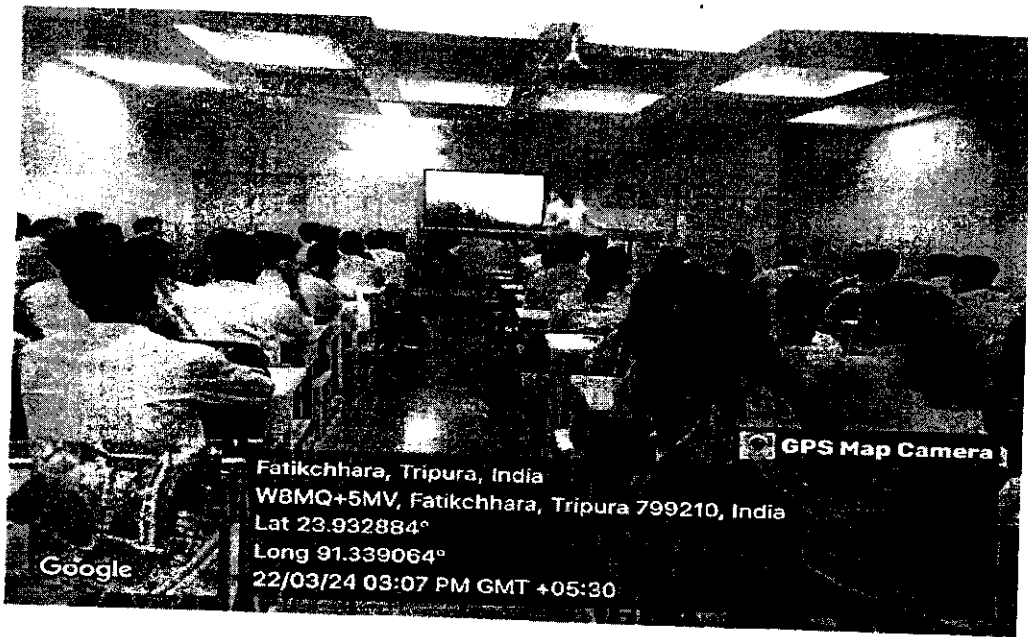

- To raise awareness about the importance of rural banking and microfinance in fostering economic development and reducing poverty in rural communities. This includes educating participants about the challenges faced by rural populations in accessing financial services and the role that microfinance institutions play in addressing these challenges.
- To deepen participants' understanding of the concepts, principles, and mechanisms underlying rural banking and microfinance. This may involve explaining the different financial products and services offered, such as savings accounts, credit facilities, insurance, and remittance services, and how these can be tailored to the specific needs of rural clients.
- To provide participants with opportunities for learning and skill development in the field of rural banking and microfinance. This may include sharing case studies, best practices, and lessons learned from successful microfinance projects, as well as facilitating discussions and interactive sessions to exchange ideas and insights among participants.
- To inspire participants to take action towards promoting financial inclusion and sustainable development in rural areas. This may involve encouraging participants to explore potential roles and opportunities for involvement in rural banking and microfinance initiatives, whether through volunteering, advocacy, entrepreneurship, or policy advocacy.

PROGRAMME OUTCOME:

- The lecture session started with the felicitation of the Guest Speaker Dr. Jayanta Choudhury, Department of Rural Studies, Tripura University by Prof. (Dr) Sujit Deb, Dean, FMC, IUT. Followed by the welcome address from Dean of FMC.
- The lecture session was very informative and interactive. The Participants demonstrate an improved understanding of the concepts, principles, and practices of rural banking and microfinance, including the role of financial institutions, the importance of financial inclusion, and the challenges and opportunities in serving rural populations.
- Participants acquired knowledge in relation to practical skills and tools related to rural banking and microfinance, such as financial analysis, risk management, client assessment, and designing appropriate financial products for rural clients.
- Participants are equipped with information and insights to engage in policy advocacy and contribute to the development of supportive regulatory frameworks for rural banking and microfinance
- Participants establish new connections and relationship with the expert Dr. Jayanta Choudhury in the field of rural banking and microfinance, enabling them to access resources, mentorship, and collaboration opportunities for future projects or initiatives.
- Participants are motivated to take action towards promoting financial inclusion and sustainable development in rural areas, whether through volunteering, entrepreneurship, advocacy, or policy engagement.
- The session ended with the vote of thanks delivered by Dr. Annesha Saha, Associate Professor, FMC, IUT.

Introduction

In today's world, technology is increasingly becoming a game-changer in agriculture and rural development. This seminar is all about exploring how we can use technology to tackle the challenges faced by rural communities and to boost agricultural productivity sustainably.

Agriculture is crucial for economies worldwide, but it's under pressure to produce more food for a growing population while also protecting the environment and supporting rural livelihoods. That's where technology comes in. From high-tech farming methods to using drones and artificial intelligence, there's a whole range of innovations that could make a big difference.

But it's not just about fancy gadgets. Technology has the power to connect rural areas to markets, information, and resources, leveling the playing field between urban and rural communities. This seminar is an opportunity to dig into these possibilities and imagine a future where technology helps rural communities thrive while preserving their way of life and the environment.

So, let's explore how technology can transform agriculture and rural development, making a better world for everyone.

Subject: Presentation on Entrepreneurship in lifestyle farming

Lifestyle farming has gained significant traction in recent years as more individuals seek to embrace sustainable living, reconnect with nature, and generate income through entrepreneurial ventures. This presentation aims to delve into the entrepreneurship opportunities within lifestyle farming, exploring its potential, challenges, and strategies for success. The primary objective of this presentation is to elucidate how lifestyle farming can serve as a viable avenue for entrepreneurship, offering insights into various aspects such as market trends, product diversification, marketing strategies, and sustainable practices. Lifestyle farming presents a promising avenue for entrepreneurial endeavors, offering opportunities for individuals to not only generate income but also contribute to sustainable agriculture and community development. By understanding market dynamics, overcoming challenges, and adopting innovative strategies, aspiring entrepreneurs can harness the potential of lifestyle farming to create successful and fulfilling businesses.

Speaker; Kishore Goswami, Professor IIT Kharagpur

Subject: Adoption and entrepreneurship through value addition in fast tracking agri and allied sector in North East India with special reference to Tripura
Adoption of entrepreneurship and value addition can significantly accelerate the growth of the agriculture and allied sectors in North East India, particularly in Tripura. Here's how:

1. Identifying Opportunities: Conduct thorough research to identify key opportunities within the agriculture and allied sectors in Tripura. This includes assessing the demand for various products both locally and in neighboring regions, understanding consumer preferences, and identifying gaps in the market.
2. Promoting Entrepreneurship: Encourage and support aspiring entrepreneurs in Tripura to venture into agri-based businesses. This can be done through various means such as providing training and capacity building programs, offering financial assistance and incentives, and creating a supportive ecosystem for startups.
3. Value Addition: Emphasize the importance of value addition in the agriculture and allied sectors. This involves processing raw agricultural products into higher value-added products such as packaged foods, beverages, cosmetics, and medicinal products. Value addition not only increases the profitability of agricultural produce but also creates employment opportunities and stimulates economic growth.
4. Infrastructure Development: Invest in infrastructure such as cold storage facilities, processing units, packaging facilities, and transportation networks to support value addition activities. Improving infrastructure will reduce post-harvest losses, improve product quality, and enhance market access for farmers and entrepreneurs.
5. Technology Adoption: Encourage the adoption of modern technologies and practices in agriculture and allied sectors. This includes the use of precision farming techniques, IoT (Internet of Things) devices for monitoring and management, mechanization, and automation of processes to improve efficiency and productivity.
6. Market Linkages: Facilitate market linkages for agri-based entrepreneurs in Tripura. This can be done by connecting them with potential buyers, distributors, retailers, and export markets. Developing strong market linkages will ensure a steady demand for their products and help them achieve sustainable growth.

7. Policy Support: Advocate for policies that promote entrepreneurship, value addition, and innovation in the agriculture and allied sectors. This includes policy reforms to ease regulations, provide tax incentives, and streamline administrative procedures for startups and small businesses.
8. Skill Development: Invest in skill development programs to enhance the capabilities of farmers and entrepreneurs in Tripura. This includes training in modern agricultural practices, food processing techniques, quality control, marketing, and business management.

Speaker: Utpal Borah, Professor IIT Guwahati

Subject: Climate change challenges and climate resilient agriculture with special reference to Tripura and North East India

Climate change poses significant challenges to agriculture in Tripura and North East India, affecting crop yields, water availability, pest and disease patterns, and overall agricultural productivity. However, adopting climate-resilient agricultural practices can help mitigate these challenges. Here's how:

1. Diversification of Crops: Encourage farmers to diversify their crop cultivation to reduce dependency on a few crops that may be vulnerable to climate change impacts. This can involve promoting the cultivation of climate-resilient crops that are better adapted to changing environmental conditions.
2. Water Management: Improve water management practices to cope with changing precipitation patterns and increasing water scarcity. This can include promoting the use of drip irrigation, rainwater harvesting, and efficient water storage and distribution systems.
3. Soil Conservation: Implement soil conservation measures to prevent soil erosion and degradation, which are exacerbated by extreme weather events associated with climate change. Techniques such as contour plowing, agroforestry, and cover cropping can help improve soil health and resilience.
4. Agroforestry and Silvopastoral Systems: Promote agroforestry and silvopastoral systems, which integrate trees and shrubs with crops and livestock. These systems enhance ecosystem resilience, improve soil fertility, provide shade and wind protection, and diversify farm income sources.
5. Integrated Pest Management (IPM): Implement IPM practices to control pests and diseases in a sustainable manner, reducing reliance on chemical pesticides. This involves monitoring pest populations, promoting natural predators and beneficial insects, and using cultural and biological control methods.
6. Crop Rotation and Intercropping: Encourage crop rotation and intercropping to improve soil health, reduce pest and disease pressure, and optimize resource use. Diversifying cropping systems can also buffer against climate-related risks and improve resilience.
7. Capacity Building and Extension Services: Provide training and extension services to farmers on climate-resilient agricultural practices. This includes raising awareness about climate change impacts, disseminating information on adaptation strategies, and building farmers' skills and knowledge to implement these practices effectively.
8. Access to Climate Information and Advisory Services: Improve access to climate information and advisory services for farmers, enabling them to make informed decisions about crop planning, resource management, and risk mitigation strategies based on weather forecasts and climate projections.

9. Infrastructure Development: Invest in agricultural infrastructure such as irrigation facilities, storage facilities, and rural roads to enhance resilience to climate change and improve market access for farmers in remote areas.
10. Policy Support: Advocate for policies that support climate-resilient agriculture, including incentives for adopting sustainable practices, subsidies for climate-smart technologies, and insurance schemes to mitigate risks associated with climate-related disasters.

Speaker: Dr. Bibhuti Ranjan Bhattacharjee

Subject: Frugal Technology for Sustainability
Frugal technology refers to the development and utilization of simple, cost-effective, and resource-efficient technologies to address pressing societal challenges while promoting sustainability. Here are some examples of frugal technologies that can contribute to sustainability:

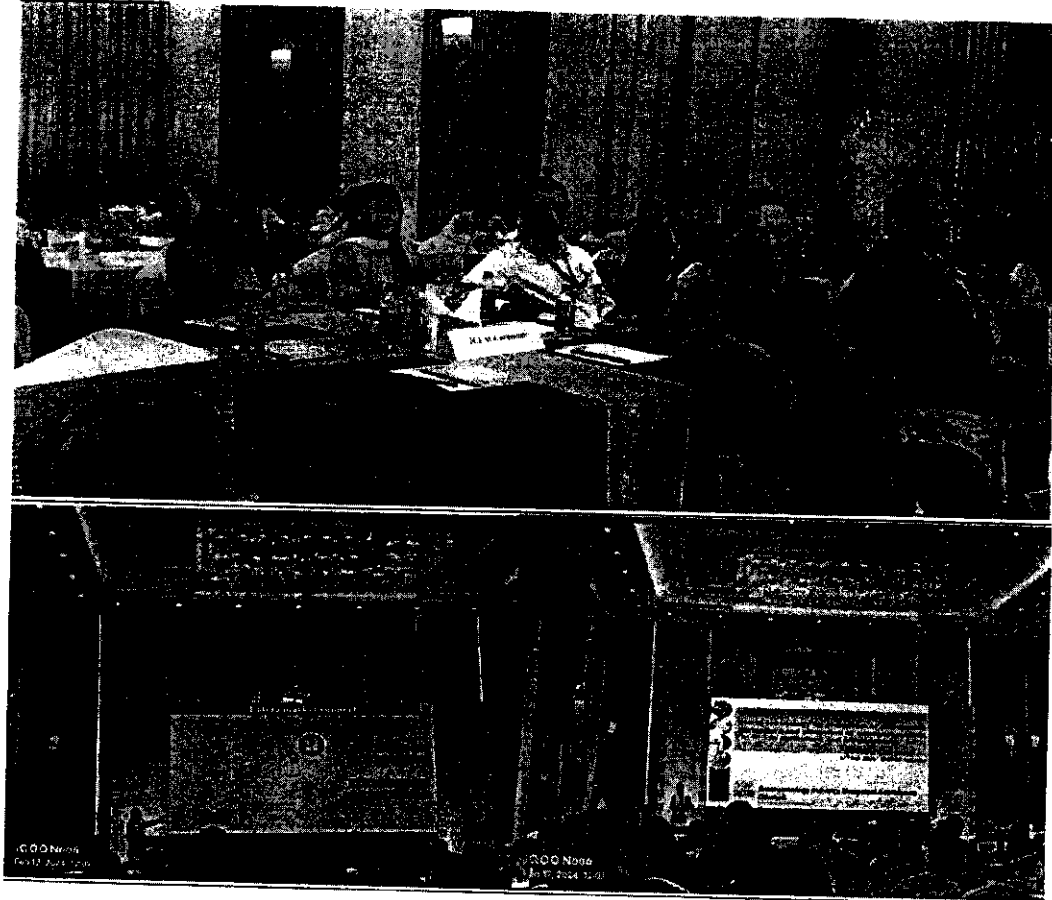

1. Solar Lanterns: In areas with limited access to electricity, solar lanterns provide a clean and sustainable lighting solution. They harness solar energy during the day and provide illumination at night, reducing dependence on fossil fuels and improving energy access in off-grid communities.
2. Biogas Digesters: Biogas digesters utilize organic waste such as animal manure, crop residues, and kitchen waste to produce biogas for cooking and heating purposes. This technology not only provides renewable energy but also helps manage organic waste, reduces greenhouse gas emissions, and improves soil fertility through the production of biofertilizer.
3. Rainwater Harvesting Systems: Rainwater harvesting systems capture and store rainwater for various uses such as irrigation, household consumption, and groundwater recharge. By harvesting rainwater, communities can reduce reliance on scarce freshwater sources, mitigate the impacts of droughts, and enhance water security.
4. Bamboo Construction: Bamboo is a fast-growing, renewable, and versatile material that can be used for construction purposes. Bamboo-based housing, furniture, and infrastructure offer sustainable alternatives to conventional materials like timber and concrete, contributing to carbon sequestration and biodiversity conservation.
5. Low-Cost Greenhouses: Low-cost greenhouses provide a controlled environment for year-round cultivation of crops, extending growing seasons and improving crop yields. These simple structures can be constructed using locally available materials such as bamboo, plastic sheeting, and recycled materials, enabling smallholder farmers to practice climate-resilient agriculture.
6. Pedal-Powered Machines: Pedal-powered machines, such as pedal-powered water pumps, threshers, and grinders, offer energy-efficient alternatives to diesel or electric-powered equipment. These human-powered technologies are particularly suitable for rural areas with limited access to electricity or fossil fuels, promoting self-reliance and reducing environmental impacts.
7. Community-Based Waste Management: Community-based waste management initiatives encourage segregation, recycling, composting, and decentralized waste treatment at the local level. By engaging communities in waste management practices, these initiatives reduce the burden on municipal landfills, mitigate pollution, and promote circular economy principles.
8. Mobile-Based Agricultural Advisory Services: Mobile-based agricultural advisory services deliver timely and tailored information to farmers via mobile phones, enabling them to make informed decisions about crop management, pest control, weather forecasting, market prices, and best agricultural practices. These digital solutions leverage existing mobile technology infrastructure to improve agricultural productivity and livelihoods in rural areas.

9. DIY Repair and Upcycling Workshops: DIY repair and upcycling workshops empower individuals to repair, repurpose, and upcycle household items and electronic devices, extending their lifespan and reducing waste generation. By fostering a culture of repair and reuse, these initiatives promote resource conservation, reduce consumption, and minimize environmental footprint.
10. Community-Owned Renewable Energy Microgrids: Community-owned renewable energy microgrids provide decentralized electricity generation and distribution services to off-grid or underserved communities. By harnessing local renewable energy resources such as solar, wind, or hydro power, these microgrids enhance energy access, promote economic development, and foster community resilience to climate change impacts.

By harnessing the potential of frugal technologies, communities can address sustainability challenges effectively while promoting innovation, affordability, and inclusivity.

Conclusion

The collective insights from the speakers highlight the pressing need for holistic approaches to address the challenges and leverage the opportunities in agriculture, entrepreneurship, technology, and sustainability in Tripura and North East India. Here's a synthesized conclusion: The development and sustainability of agriculture and allied sectors in Tripura and North East India depend on innovative solutions, inclusive policies, and collaborative efforts. Key themes emerge from the discussions, including:

1. Technology Accessibility: There is a consensus on the importance of making technology affordable and accessible to farmers and entrepreneurs. This includes leveraging advancements such as drones, post-harvest technologies, and digital platforms for advisory services.
2. Entrepreneurship Promotion: Encouraging entrepreneurship and value addition in agri-based businesses is essential for economic growth and job creation. This involves providing training, financial support, and creating a conducive ecosystem for startups and small businesses.
3. Climate Resilience: Climate change poses significant challenges to agriculture, necessitating the adoption of climate-resilient practices. Strategies include crop diversification, water management, soil conservation, and agroforestry to mitigate risks and enhance resilience.
4. Innovation and Collaboration: Emphasizing innovation, collaboration, and knowledge-sharing is crucial for addressing complex challenges and seizing opportunities. This involves leveraging local expertise, fostering partnerships between government, academia, and industry, and promoting a culture of continuous learning and adaptation.
5. Sustainable Development: Frugal technologies offer practical solutions for promoting sustainability in agriculture and allied sectors. By harnessing cost-effective and resource-efficient technologies, communities can address societal challenges while promoting environmental stewardship and inclusive growth.

By addressing the multifaceted challenges and opportunities in Tripura and North East India's agriculture and allied sectors requires coordinated efforts, investment in technology and innovation, supportive policies, and a commitment to sustainability and inclusivity. By embracing these principles and working collaboratively, stakeholders can unlock the region's immense potential and create a more resilient, prosperous, and sustainable future.

Brief of the Event

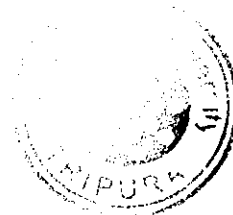

On 6th February, an insightful session was undertaken by Mr. Sanjib Gain, a respected expert in commodity trading, with the aim of raising awareness among students about the commodity market. The event took place at Room No.423.

Mr. Gain commenced the event by providing an overview of the commodity market and its pivotal role in the global economy. He highlighted the significance of commodities across various sectors and discussed their impact on financial markets.

Throughout the event, Mr. Gain engaged the participants in interactive discussions, covering a wide range of topics including the fundamentals of commodity trading, risk management strategies, and the integration of technology in modern trading practices. He shared valuable insights from his extensive experience in the field, providing practical examples to illustrate key concepts.

The event provided an excellent opportunity for students to deepen their understanding of commodity market dynamics. Participants actively participated in the discussions, asking insightful questions and expressing their interest in exploring opportunities in commodity trading.

Overall, the event was a resounding success, leaving attendees with a greater appreciation for the complexities of the commodity market and equipped with valuable knowledge to navigate this dynamic field. It served as a testament to Mr. Gain's expertise and commitment to empowering the next generation of traders.

Outcome of the Program:

- Students of the event hosted by Mr. Sanjib Gain on understanding the commodity market, walked away with a newfound appreciation for the intricacies of commodity trading. Through engaging discussions and practical examples shared by Mr. Gain, they gained valuable insights into the fundamentals of commodity trading, risk management strategies, and the role of technology in modern trading practices.
- The event provided the students with a comprehensive understanding of how commodities play a vital role in the global economy and their impact on various sectors. They were able to grasp the complexities of commodity market dynamics and learned how to make informed decisions in this dynamic field.
- Moreover, the interactive nature of the event allowed the students to actively participate, ask questions, and share their thoughts, which enhanced their learning experience even further.
- Overall, the event was incredibly informative and valuable, and students were grateful to Mr. Sanjib Gain for his expertise and dedication in empowering students to navigate the commodity market successfully.

Brief of the Event

- Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has been observing Financial Literacy Week (FLW) every year since 2016 to propagate financial education messages to public at large to empower them to engage in responsible financial behaviour and take informed financial decisions.
- The theme for this year's Financial Literacy Week to be observed during February 26 – March 01, 2024 is "Make a Right Start: Become Financially Smart", with emphasis on "Saving and Power of Compounding", "Banking Essentials for Students" and "Digital and Cyber Hygiene" which aligns with overall strategic objectives of the National Strategy for Financial Education: 2020-2025. The theme for this year is targeted towards young adults, mainly students. The objective is to increase awareness on the advantage of inculcating discipline from an early age.
- On the occasion, Reserve Bank of India, Agartala Regional Office (ARO) organised the inaugural function of FLW at RBI, ARO wherein General Manager (Officer-In-Charge), inaugurated the Financial Literacy Week, released the Messages and unveiled the Financial Literacy Posters carrying the theme of FLW 2024 in the presence of RBI Officials, NABARD, SLBC, UTLBC and senior bankers of the state. Addressing the gathering, Shri Parikh urged all the stakeholders to promote the messages of the FL Week 2024 as widely as possible.
- Banks have been advised to disseminate information and create awareness among the masses during the week on the above theme by displaying posters that have been developed by RBI on their websites, ATMs, mobile applications, and digital display boards deployed in their branches.
- Further, as part of FLW campaign of 2024, RBI is pleased to announce a Financial Literacy Ideathon, which is aimed at soliciting innovative ideas from postgraduate students, on creative strategies to propagate financial literacy among the youth so as to empower them to engage in responsible financial behaviour and take informed financial decisions.

Outcome of the Program:

Outcome Report: RBI Financial Literacy Week Program for Students

Date: 26th February, 2024

Location: Hotel Polo Towers, Agartala.

Introduction: The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) conducted a Financial Literacy Week program aimed at enhancing the financial knowledge and skills of students. The program focused on imparting essential financial concepts, promoting responsible financial behavior, and empowering students to make informed financial decisions.

Objectives:

1. Increase awareness about financial concepts among students.
2. Equip students with practical skills to manage personal finances effectively.
3. Foster a culture of financial responsibility and entrepreneurship among youth.
4. Encourage students to adopt saving and investment habits from a young age.

Program Activities:

1. Financial Literacy Workshops: Interactive workshops were conducted by financial experts and educators, covering topics such as budgeting, saving, banking, investing, and financial planning. These workshops utilized engaging presentations, case studies, and group discussions to make complex financial concepts accessible to students.
2. Interactive Sessions: Students participated in role-playing exercises, games, and quizzes to reinforce their understanding of financial principles. These interactive sessions encouraged active participation and facilitated peer learning.
3. Guest Lectures: Eminent personalities from the financial sector delivered guest lectures on specialized topics such as entrepreneurship, digital banking, and the importance of financial inclusion. These sessions provided students with insights into real-world applications of financial knowledge.
4. Skill-building Activities: Hands-on activities, such as creating personal budgets, setting financial goals, and designing investment portfolios, enabled students to apply theoretical concepts to practical situations. Guidance and feedback from mentors helped students refine their financial plans.
5. Resource Distribution: RBI provided educational materials, including brochures, booklets, and online resources, to students for further self-study and reference. These resources covered a wide range of financial topics and served as valuable tools for ongoing learning.

Outcome Highlights:

1. Enhanced Financial Literacy: Participating students demonstrated a significant improvement in their understanding of financial concepts, as evidenced by pre- and post-program assessments.
2. Increased Confidence: Students reported feeling more confident in managing their finances independently and making informed financial decisions. They expressed enthusiasm for applying their newfound knowledge in real-life situations.
3. Cultivated Financial Habits: The program instilled positive financial habits, such as regular saving, responsible spending, and long-term planning, among students. Many students expressed their intention to continue practicing these habits in the future.
4. Empowerment and Engagement: Students actively engaged with the program activities and demonstrated a strong interest in learning about finance. The interactive nature of the program facilitated meaningful discussions and fostered a sense of empowerment among participants.

ABOUT THE RBI FINANCIAL LITERACY WEEK:

Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has been observing Financial Literacy Week (FLW) every year since 2016 to propagate financial education messages to public at large to empower them to engage in responsible financial behavior and take informed financial decisions.

- The theme for this year's Financial Literacy Week to be observed during February 26 – March 01, 2024 is "Make a Right Start: Become Financially Smart", with emphasis on "Saving and Power of Compounding", "Banking Essentials for Students" and "Digital and Cyber Hygiene" which aligns with overall strategic objectives of the National Strategy for Financial Education: 2020-2025. The theme for this year is targeted towards young adults, mainly students. The objective is to increase awareness on the advantage of inculcating discipline from an early age.

- On the occasion, Reserve Bank of India, Agartala Regional Office (ARO) organised the inaugural function of FLW at RBI, ARO wherein General Manager (Officer-In-Charge), inaugurated the Financial Literacy Week, released the Messages and unveiled the Financial Literacy Posters carrying the theme of FLW 2024 in the presence of RBI Officials, NABARD, SLBC, UTLBC and senior bankers of the state. Addressing the gathering, Shri Parikh urged all the stakeholders to promote the messages of the FL Week 2024 as widely as possible.

- Banks have been advised to disseminate information and create awareness among the masses during the week on the above theme by displaying posters that have been developed

• Further, as part of FLW campaign of 2024, RBI is pleased to announce a Financial Literacy idea which is aimed at soliciting innovative ideas from postgraduate students, on creative strategies to propagate financial literacy among the youth so as to empower them to engage in responsible financial behavior and take informed financial decisions.

Objective of the Program:

Brief of the Programme:

About the University:

Institute of Chartered Financial Analysts of India, Tripura (www.iutripura.edu.in) popularly known as The ICFAI University, Tripura has been established through an act of the state legislature (Tripura State Legislature Act 8 of 2004). The University is recognized by UGC under Section 2 (f) of 1956 and the university is empowered to award degrees under section 22 of UGC Act, 1956. The University is currently offering 52 (fifty two) programs in Management, Commerce, Engineering, Law, Teacher education, Special Education, Physical Education, English, Yoga and Library Science etc. The University strives to provide quality education with an objective to provide the students with an appropriate combination of conceptual framework and practical insight into managerial technological and legal challenges and business opportunities for grooming entrepreneurial initiatives.

Objective of the Programme:

1. To increase and spread knowledge regarding the new tax regime among the students.
2. To assess the differences between the old and new tax regime and make it understandable to the students.
3. To ensure the students' understanding about the various methods of calculating tax.
4. To enhance the students' skills on tax.

Learning Outcome:

Following were the learning outcome of the Webinar:

1. The students learnt about the various types of taxes and how it is calculated.
2. The students were educated about the existing differences between the old tax regime and the new tax regime.
3. The students also learnt about the need and importance of paying tax.

Summarisation of the Programme:

To make the students of B.Com(H) aware regarding the recent tax reforms, the Faculty of Management & Commerce has organised the webinar on Income Tax: Old Regime vs. New Regime. The resource person for the programme was CA Vineet Rathi Senior Partner of Vineet Rathi & Associates.

The webinar began with the welcome speech by Prof. (Dr.) Sujit Deb, Dean, Faculty of Management & Commerce. It was followed by the Resource person's knowledge encrusted lecture session. In his session, CA Vineet Rathi discussed about the old and new tax regimes and distinct structures for tax payers. The old regime, characterized by higher tax rates, provides various deductions and exemptions, allowing individuals to lower their tax liability through avenues like HRA, LTA, and Section 80C investments. In contrast, the new regime offers lower tax rates but eliminates most deductions and exemptions, simplifying the tax structure. He also emphasized on the fact that the tax payers must weigh their options carefully: the old regime suits those with substantial deductions, enabling them to leverage exemptions to reduce taxes significantly, while the new regime attracts those seeking simplicity and a flat tax rate without the complexity of multiple deductions. The choice between the two depends on individual financial scenarios, necessitating a thorough assessment of one's income, deductions, and exemptions to determine the most advantageous approach for tax planning. He also highlighted in his session that the old Indian tax regime operates on higher tax rates but offers numerous deductions and exemptions, allowing individuals to customize their tax planning strategies. In contrast, the new tax regime provides lower tax rates but simplifies the structure by eliminating most deductions and exemptions. Choosing between these regimes requires a careful assessment of individual financial circumstances to determine which aligns best with one's tax planning and financial objectives.

The webinar ended with the vote of thanks delivered by Dr. Annesha Saha, Associate Professor and HOD of B. Com(H), Faculty of Management & Commerce, ICFAI University Tripura.

Industry Visit
Faculty of Management and Commerce, ICFAI University Tripura

Date: 21st December 2023

Introduction

Industry visits play a pivotal role in the holistic education of MBA students as they bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world application. These visits provide invaluable opportunities for students to witness firsthand the operational intricacies, challenges, and innovations within diverse industries. Exposure to actual business environments enhances students' understanding of theoretical concepts learned in classrooms, fosters practical problem-solving skills, and cultivates a nuanced appreciation for industry dynamics. Interactions with industry professionals during such visits not only broaden students' perspectives but also offer networking possibilities, paving the way for potential internships, collaborations, and future career opportunities. Overall, industry visits are instrumental in preparing MBA students for the dynamic and competitive business landscape by equipping them with practical insights and a well-rounded skill set.

The Faculty of Management and Commerce at ICFAI University Tripura organized an enriching industry visit for the MBA students on 21st December 2023. The primary focus of the visit was on two prominent industries in Guwahati, Assam - Britannia Industry and Emami Industry, providing students with valuable insights into the operations of these companies. Additionally, the students had the opportunity to explore the picturesque state of Meghalaya during a five-day excursion.

Britannia Industry Visit:

The visit to Britannia Industry offered students a first-hand look at the manufacturing and production processes of one of India's leading food companies. The students were exposed to the state-of-the-art facilities and technologies employed by Britannia. The management team at Britannia shared valuable information about their marketing strategies, supply chain management, and quality control measures. The students engaged in interactive sessions with industry professionals, gaining practical knowledge about the challenges and opportunities in the food industry. The day began with an insightful visit to the Britannia Industry in Guwahati. The students were warmly welcomed by the management team, who provided an overview of the company's history, mission, and core values. The tour comprised an in-depth exploration of the manufacturing facilities, emphasizing the intricate processes involved in producing a wide range of food products.

Key Highlights:

Production Processes: Students gained hands-on knowledge of the sophisticated production lines and quality control measures employed by Britannia.

Interactive Sessions: Engaging discussions with industry professionals shed light on marketing strategies, supply chain logistics, and the importance of innovation in the highly competitive food industry.

Q&A Session: A dedicated question-and-answer session allowed students to seek clarification on industry-related queries and understand the challenges faced by Britannia.

Emami Industry Visit:

Following the Britannia Industry visit, the students proceeded to Emami Industry. The visit commenced with an overview of the company's portfolio and market positioning. The students toured the production units, laboratories, and research and development facilities, gaining a comprehensive understanding of the company's commitment to product innovation and quality assurance.

Key Highlights:

Product Innovation: Emami's representatives shared insights into the research and development processes driving product innovation in the personal care and healthcare sectors.

Market Dynamics: Discussions with key personnel illuminated the strategies employed by Emami to navigate the dynamic market, emphasizing branding and customer satisfaction.

Industry Trends: The visit served as a platform for students to explore emerging trends in the personal care industry and understand the role of sustainability in product development.

Meghalaya Excursion:

Following the industry visits, students embarked on a five-day excursion to Meghalaya. The itinerary included visits to Shillong, Cherrapunji, and Dawki, providing students with an immersive cultural experience.

Key Highlights:

Cultural Exploration: Students immersed themselves in the rich cultural tapestry of Meghalaya, interacting with local communities and experiencing traditional music and dance.

Team-building Activities: The excursion included team-building activities that fostered camaraderie among students, enhancing their interpersonal skills.

Natural Wonders: Visits to iconic landmarks like Cherrapunji, Karangsouri waterfall, the living root bridges and the crystal-clear Dawki river allowed students to appreciate the natural beauty and ecological diversity of Meghalaya.

The industry visit organized by the Faculty of Management and Commerce at ICFAI University Tripura was a resounding success, providing MBA students with practical insights into the operations of two influential industries. The combination of industry exposure and the cultural excursion to Meghalaya contributed to the holistic development of the students, aligning with the university's commitment to providing a well-rounded and industry-relevant education. This experience is expected to empower students as they progress in their academic and professional journeys.

Brief Of The Program:

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY:

Institute of Chartered Financial Analysts of India, Tripura (www.iutripura.edu.in) popularly known as The ICFAI University, Tripura has been established through an act of the state legislature (Tripura State Legislature Act 8 of 2004). The University is recognized by UGC under Section 2 (f) of 1956 and the university is empowered to award degrees under section 22 of UGC Act, 1956. The University is currently offering 52 (fifty two) programs in Management, Commerce, Engineering, Law, Teacher education, Special Education, Physical Education, English, Yoga and Library Science etc. The University strives to provide quality education with an objective to provide the students with an appropriate combination of conceptual framework and practical insight into managerial technological and legal challenges and business opportunities for grooming entrepreneurial initiatives.

Objective of the Program:

Briefly the aims and objectives of this Lecture session are:

- 1) To understand why interpersonal communication is important for the workplace, and how to improve it.
- 2) To understand the process of establishing an effective communication among the employees.
- 3) To gain knowledge regarding various ways to overcome communication barriers.

Outcome of the Program:

The Faculty Development Programme has helped the attendees to gather vital knowledge regarding the importance of interpersonal communication and served the main objectives of the programme. The summarisation of the webinar is as follows:

- The session started with the welcome speech delivered by Dr. Sujit Deb, Dean, FMC, ICFAI University Tripura
- An exclusive session has been conducted on the topic "Interpersonal Communication & High Intelligence: the foundation of a healthy workplace" by Prof. Sarbari Saha, IBS Kolkata for the purpose of throwing light on the importance of interpersonal communication which is a key to healthy workplace and to make the participants aware about the different aspects and techniques related to this concept

- The resource person has explained the functions interpersonal communication skill and how it works and what are the activities involved in it. Prof. Sarbati Saha also discussed that interpersonal relationship immensely affects our communication process, whether it is among the colleagues or between the employer and employee
- She has also highlighted that there are essentially three forms of interpersonal communication: verbal, written, or non-verbal. If a person has strong interpersonal communication skills, they are likely to be effective at communicating points, messages, feelings, and thoughts to others. Not only is this important in daily interactions with family, friends, and even strangers, it's also an essential skill in the workplace
- Prof. Saha has also referred to few things we can do to overcome those weaknesses and to improve interpersonal communication such as knowing our listener, using body language wisely, and improving listening skill. Besides this Knowing how we perceive ourselves and want to be perceived, as well as how others perceive us, can help point us in the direction of improving our communication and reaching our communication goal.
- Lastly, the FDP and the following interactive session ended with a vote of thanks delivered by Prof. Rashmi Debbarma, Assistant Professor, FMC, ICFAI University Tripura.

Introduction

Stress is such a condition that arises out of the mind as a result of the inability to handle and manage life. Human beings are the only living creatures on this planet that has the term 'Being' as the suffix which means we are capable of being and becoming or have the ability to transform ourselves the way we want. Human beings are endowed with intelligence but when it starts working against human beings itself, leads to unwanted issues and perplexities such as stress and anxiety which makes the personality unfavorable, unpleasant and troublesome for oneself as well as for others.

Objective: Objective of this program is to educate people how to cope up with stress and anxiety; how to deal with situation and manage stress level by practicing some activities. And the outcome of the program is people become more conscious about their mental health they aware about stress management they knows how to prevent or reduce stress with simple ways like taking enough sleep, Practice Meditation, Stress Reduction or Yoga, Connect with Supportive People, regular exercise etc.

'Stress to some degree is a normal part of life, it is only when the amount we are experiencing exceeds our capacity and resources to manage it that we run into difficulty and find ourselves in a vicious cycle of stress,' says Charlotte Williams, counselling services manager at Birkbeck, University of London.

If you're often under stress, you need to learn to manage it well. Stress can affect your well-being. Over time, you may show some of these symptoms of being stressed:

- Physical. Frequent colds or flu, headaches, trouble sleeping, muscle tension, skin problems, trouble with digestion
- Mental. Poor concentration, forgetfulness, learning problems, frequent negative thoughts, speech problems

Pradip

- Emotional. Anxiety, depression, anger, irritability, feelings of helplessness, lack of purpose, relationship troubles
- Behavioral. Eating poorly, driving recklessly, abusing alcohol or drugs, being accident prone, showing aggression

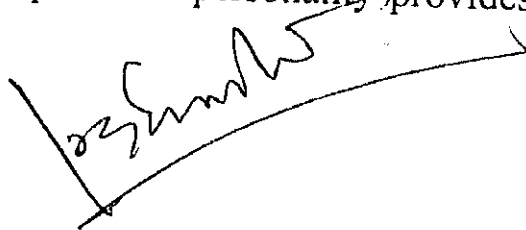

Guest Lecturer: Dr. Mallika Banerjee,

Professor, HOD of Psychology,
University of Calcutta.

A special lecture was given to all teacher trainees on topic “Stress & Personality” (How to cope up with stress).

Outcome: As teacher trainees are going to be the future teachers, their understanding of general nature and process of stress and its connection with personality development is crucial. Thus, this program helped the teacher trainees to understand in real terms, the relationship between stress and personality.

Conclusion: Stress management and Development of Personality is very highly important matter in 21st century. This type of lecture has created a greater enthuthiasm among the students. They can now become more aware of the stressful conditions and proper etiquette in maintaining a stress free life. They are also able to know the preventive measures which they can apply in their own life. Moreover, Special lecture on health Management and development of personality provides a great understanding of their social values and proper health they must have in maintaining a healthy life style.

Introduction

"Health is not just being disease-free. Health is when every cell in your body is bouncing with life." – Sadhguru

The world is going through rapid changes, and the only constant thing that is in our hands is our health. Being healthy is a choice. Specific guidelines are there to maintain good health, but in the end, it is individual effort and determination. Good health is essential for having a pro-active and fully functioning life. Man is a social animal, and good health ensures social survival. Health, besides being personal, is also social. A healthy person can bring positive changes in society. It is not an end to itself but also the key to creating a better and more reformed community.

Health can be of varied types; physical, emotional, mental, social, spiritual and sexual health is some of them. Distress can cause neurotic disorders, and healthy people are less likely to fall prey to them. Physical health refers to the bodily well-being of individuals. It involves maintaining a healthy lifestyle. An individual who follows a balanced diet, replenished with carbohydrates, proteins, fats, vitamins, and minerals, in adequate quantities, usually has better immunity. Health is Wealth means good health is the real treasure. A healthy life enables one to remain positive and face all life challenges.

Objective: On occasion of World Health Day, B.Ed trainees organized a short speech and drawing competition among school children with Theme: “Health for All – Everyone, Everywhere”. Six students from class 7, 8, and 9 participated in short speech. Fifteen students of class 6 to 9 participated in drawing competition.

Activities:

Sl No.	Name of The Activity	Date	Time	No. Of Participants
1.	Report on World Health Day	7 th April, 2024	10.00 am to 11.30 pm	98

Physical health requires few dedicated efforts, including regular exercise and consumption of a lot of water. Water regulates all our body processes, reduces chances for zits and pimples, and ensures regular bowel movements. Exercises like brisk walking, running, cycling, and skipping help in maintaining proper body weight.

Mental health refers to our emotional and psychological well-being. Mental health has a significant impact on our thoughts, behaviors, and attitude. It is essential to give equal attention to our mental health as its effects are grave. Society has a significant impact on an individual's mental health. Societal pressures about getting jobs and getting significantly married affect our peace of mind. In addition to false standards of beauty imposed on us, harmful and hurtful remarks regarding someone's body and various unnecessary criticisms take a toll on our mental health.

Teenagers are very susceptible to depression and anxiety as they go through the troubled adolescent period. Adults expect them to take up responsibilities all of a sudden, and they cannot cope up with their expectations. Hence, they suffer from an identity crisis as they cannot comprehend the roles that they should play.

Adolescents often fall under peer pressure and take to bad habits like drugs, alcohol, which makes them unfocused. Retired individuals also suffer from loneliness and depression as they feel that they have lost their prominence in the family. Heavy workload and pressure to meet deadlines, merged with an unhealthy workplace environment may also affect mental health.

Dr. Sayantan Takur, Asst. Prof., FHSS was judge for the competitions. Four trainees organised the competitions among the school children who visit ICFAI University for supportive education. Children enjoyed the competition and were requesting to organize such activities whenever applicable.

Outcome: As teacher trainees are going to be the future teachers, their understanding of general health is crucial. Thus, this program helped the teacher trainees to understand in real terms, the utility of maintaining good health.

Conclusion: Health management is very highly important matter in 21st century. This type of lecture has created a great enthusiasm among the students. They can now become more aware of the different health conditions and proper etiquette in maintaining a healthy life. They are also able to know the preventive measures which they can apply in their own life. Two-Days Technical Workshop for awareness of trends in technology on "Addressing Water Quality Challenges and Solutions in Tripura"

Date: 26th February – 27th February, 2024
Time: 10:00 AM – 11:45 AM
Venue: Ground Floor Auditorium, IUT
Organised by: Civil Engineering Department, The ICFAI University Tripura

Introduction:

Water quality is a critical issue that directly impacts public health, ecosystem sustainability, and economic development. In the northeastern state of Tripura, India, ensuring clean and safe water presents significant challenges due to various factors. Rapid urbanization, industrialization, and agricultural practices have contributed to the contamination of water sources. These challenges are compounded by the region's unique topography and climate, which influence water availability and quality. Addressing these challenges requires a comprehensive understanding of the factors affecting water quality and the implementation of effective solutions.

One of the primary challenges in Tripura is the contamination of water by both biological and chemical pollutants. The presence of pathogens due to inadequate sanitation facilities and improper waste disposal practices poses a severe health risk to the population. Additionally, agricultural runoff carrying pesticides and fertilizers seeps into water bodies, leading to chemical pollution. Industrial effluents, though less prevalent than in more industrialized regions, also contribute to water quality degradation. The diverse sources of pollution necessitate a multi-faceted approach to water management that includes both preventive and remedial measures.

To address the water quality challenges in Tripura, a combination of technological, policy-driven, and community-based solutions is essential. Technological interventions such as advanced filtration and purification systems can significantly reduce contaminants. Policy measures must focus on stricter regulations for waste disposal, industrial effluents, and agricultural practices. Furthermore, community engagement and education play a crucial role in promoting sustainable water use and hygiene practices.

By integrating these solutions, Tripura can improve its water quality, ensuring a healthier environment and better quality of life for its residents.

Objectives of the Field Visit:

The workshop will introduce participants to innovative water management strategies, such as integrated water resources management (IWRM), water-sensitive urban design (WSUD), and demand-driven approaches. They will learn about successful case studies and practical implementation methods to improve water efficiency and sustainability.

Outcome of the Visit:

The participants have enlightened themselves as per the demonstration of the following tests and procedures.

1. Enhanced Knowledge and Skills: Participants will gain a comprehensive understanding of water quality issues, including sources of contamination and advanced purification techniques. This knowledge will empower them to effectively address water quality challenges in their communities.
2. Actionable Strategies and Plans: The workshop will facilitate the development of practical action plans tailored to local conditions. Attendees will leave with concrete strategies for implementing sustainable water management practices and improving water quality.
3. Strengthened Collaboration: By bringing together stakeholders from various sectors, the workshop will foster stronger collaboration and partnerships. This will enhance coordinated efforts to tackle water quality issues and promote shared responsibility among government agencies, NGOs, and community groups.
4. Increased Community Engagement: The workshop will emphasize the importance of community involvement and education. Participants will learn effective ways to engage and educate local communities about sustainable water use and hygiene practices, leading to greater public participation and long-term adherence to water quality initiatives.

Conclusion:

Addressing the water quality challenges in Tripura is essential for ensuring the health and well-being of its residents, preserving the environment, and supporting economic growth. Through a combination of technological advancements, stringent policy measures, and active community engagement, significant improvements can be achieved. The outcomes of focused efforts, such as those from a dedicated workshop, will enhance knowledge, foster collaboration, and lead to the development of actionable strategies tailored to local conditions. By prioritizing sustainable water management practices and education, Tripura can overcome its water quality challenges, paving the way for a healthier, more sustainable future.

About The Institute

The ICFAI University, Tripura (referred to hereafter as the University) was established in 2004 through an Act of State Legislature (Tripura Act 8 of 2004). The University has been approved by the University Grants Commission, under Section 2(f) of the UGC Act, 1956. The ICFAI University, Tripura is a member of The Association of Commonwealth Universities (ACU), London, UK, Association of Indian Universities (AIU), New Delhi, India, The Institution of Engineers (India) and Association of Management Development Institutions in South Asia (AMDISA), Hyderabad. The University has accreditations of the following regulatory authorities: Bar Council of India (BCI), National Council for Teachers Education (NCTE), Distance Education Bureau (DEB) and NAAC. The University offers Bachelor, Master and Doctoral programs in management, finance, science and technology, information technology, education, law and other areas.

Faculty of Science and Technology

The Faculty of Science and Technology (FST) is a constituent of The ICFAI University, Tripura. It has been established to promote quality education, research, training and consultation in the field of science and technology with a global perspective to meet the challenges of the fast-changing trends in the field and to match international standards.

Civil Engineering

Civil Engineering (CE) being one of the elementary branches of core engineering, educates students in structural, transportation, geotechnical, and environmental engineering. It offers theoretical and practical training through lectures and labs, preparing students for careers in infrastructure and construction. Faculty members contribute to research in the field.

About the Department

The Civil Engineering Department started its journey in the year 2004. Since its inception, the department is credited for development of state of the art. The department has produced worldwide competent Engineers capable of contributing the society through innovation and working in the multidisciplinary fields. The department aims to provide the students with a perfect blend of intellectual and practical experiences that helps them to serve the society and address a variety of needs and good human beings. The department has dedicated itself in development of state-of-the-art technologies and is continuously pushing the boundaries of excellence.

Themes of the Workshop

The workshop will introduce participants to innovative water management strategies, such as integrated water resources management (IWRM), water-sensitive urban design (WSUD), and demand-driven approaches. They will learn about successful case studies and practical implementation methods to improve water efficiency and sustainability.

Gist of the Lectures given by the Resource Persons:

1. Dr. M.R.S Murthy, Associate Professor & DPIIT-IPR Chair,

NUSRL,Ranchi Topic :- “ Copyright Challenges in Digital Era”

Issues and challenges to copyright law in digital environment

- Protection, management and administration of copyright in digital environment is becoming very challenging day by day in digital era
- Need attention of the regulators, enforcement agencies and field experts to focus on their skill and efforts enrichment, sharpen their abilities and performances with new tools and techniques for effective protection of the work
- The new works created by using digital technologies from the physical works

Some of the key concerns in the digital realm

- Digital Policy
- Enforcement of Copyright Law in the digital environment
- Licensing, Revenue, Technology and copyright protection
- Impact of emerging technologies such as AI on copyright enforcement
- The need to effect co-ordinate with management system
- In the digital landscape, creators to receive quality and their works with their rights, hence incentives to use to create the content and help understand for their work and the IPR law

- History – 500 Years (Gutenberg Printing Work – Copyright)
- TRIPS (Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Right) Agreement,1995 – 1st International Agreement governing IPR
- Conventional Copyright Protection in relation to ITs – Include ; Dramatic Works (must be performed/ live performance for protection); Book Publication (must be digitally available); Cinematography (film must be released); Broadcasting (available in Theatres)
- S.18 of Copyright Act, 1957 – Expansion; Recent developments – Use of Digital platform like OTT, Television services etc.
- IT Communication – Piracy distribution of such Copyright Works to be avoided without Owner’s permission (S.19); Right of Performer – S.38
- Copy – only 1st owner can grant permission for commercialization u/s. 17, either through Assignment, Operation of Law & Licensing.
- IT & Technology Law,2000 – Emphasizes more on Copyright Protection
- Recent Problem – use of A.I. for automation or creation of similar fake work ; indecent representation of work of the actual owner, Scan original copies to sell unaware due to advancement in technology, by A.I. one form of expression can be converted into another expression
- To combat A.I. issues – Digital System Set up to be build to understand & recognize real work, Copyright grant – Differ from U.S where only Natural Person is granted ; India any Legal Juristic Person is granted copyright holder and protection
- One must recognize that Human Intellect is real & valuable then A.I. generated works even if it’s published
- Solution – Linking, DRM, Watermarking, Fair Use guidelines. Etc.

2. Dr. Pankaj Kumar, DPIIT Chair & Professor, NLUJAA, Assam

Topic:- “ Patentability of Biological Invention with reference to Traditional Knowledge”

Application assessment based on Guidelines for processing of patent applications relating to Bio-materials and the associated TK

All applications for patent relating to TK are identified, screened and classified as “ Traditional Knowledge” by RPS Section

In spite of the strict screening at office, it is noted that some applications wrongly classify in other fields like “traditional knowledge chemical” instead of “Traditional knowledge biotechnology”

As per the guideline, the Examiner needs to carry out a careful prior-art search in TKDL and other databases to examine the applications

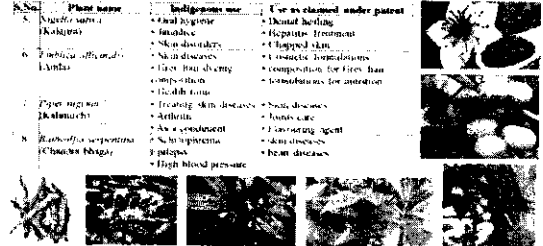

It is noted that around 50 % of such applications were objected under S 3(p)

The copy of the citation (English translated) which are made from TKDL should be sent along with the examination report/JER

In practice, it was noted that hardly each extracts of TKDL arranged with the JER. However, the same can be arranged on the applicant's request.

... Similarity between Plant's Indigenous and Patented Use

S.No.	Plant name	Indigenous use	Use as claimed under patent
5	Kugliya saria (Kuligra)	• Oral hygiene • Antibiotic	• Dental healing • Hepatic treatment
6	Pachira aquatica (Amla)	• Skin disorder • Skin diseases • Hair oil dressing • Health tonic	• Chapped skin • Cosmetic formulations • Composition for hair composition • Antioxidant
7	Typha nigra (Kalmachi)	• Treating skin diseases • Arthritis	• Skin diseases • Hair care
8	Rauvolfia serpentina (Chachin Bagga)	• As a sedative • Nephropathy • Prolaps • High blood pressure	• Anesthetizing agent • Skin diseases • Brain diseases

- Technology for everyone is technology everywhere
- Monopolistic Practices on Bio Invention – not commercialized without proper information, Thus Patent was required
- Under Biodiversity Act,2002 – Bio Invention ; certain portions of profit to be shared to the Shareholder, established – National Biodiversity Authority (NBA) ; to use those profits for the welfare of the shareholder.
- Patentability prevented wrongful use ; Patents Act,1970 including 2005 Amendment

Provided criteria for Pre & Post Grant application of Bio Invention:- Novelty with Opposition (S.25), Inventive Step (S.2 definition), Due care and diligence should be exercised, the geographical origin of the biological material used must be declared in Form 1, If the biological material is from India, permission from the NBA is required, If the biological material is not from India, the claimant must declare the country of source and geographical origin, Mentioning the geographical origin requires tracing the history or lineage of the material used, Failure to disclose or incorrectly mention the source or geographical origin of the biological material can be grounds for pre- and post-grant opposition

- Inventions not Patentable – S.3 of Patents Act
- Solution: S.6 Biodiversity Act – Prior Approval of NBA, SIPPR scheme for start- ups (no charge required – with a period of 4 to 3 years).

TKDL – The Traditional Knowledge Digital Library (TKDL) is a pioneering initiative of India, under the joint collaboration of the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR) and AYUSH, to prevent exploitation and to protect Indian traditional knowledge at Patent Offices worldwide.

- TKDL - an accessible database of TK:
 - a. Public Awareness
 - b. R&D
 - c. Recognition of the Concern Local Society
 - d. Protection
 - e. Prior-art Documentation
 - f. Patentability Establishment
 - g. Easy to Oppose Economically and Efficiently

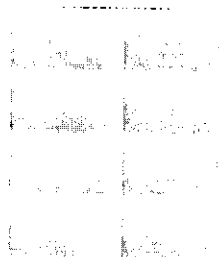

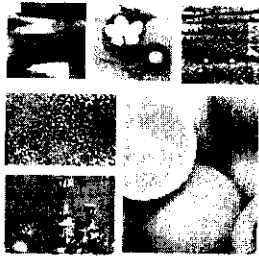

TKDL

- TKDL is basically a software and with its classification system converts that in local language into multiple international languages
- This software does a knowledge based conversion where the abstract is converted into several languages using linguistic, multifold methodology. This software converts traditional terminology into modern terminology e.g.
 - Turmeric to Curcuma longa Linn.
 - Green to Chlorophyllous, ZIA, etc.
 - Bark to Cortex, Phloem, etc.
 - Root to Rhizome
 - Flower to Antho, etc.
 - Medicinal to Alkaloid
- It includes search interface which provide full text search and retrieval of tk information on IPC and keywords in multiple languages
- The search features includes single or multiple word search, Boolean expression search, field search, phrase search etc.
- Searches are also available on IPC and TRC codes

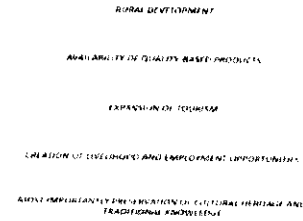

3. Dr. Nidhi Buch, Associate Professor & Head for Centre for IPR, Internship & Placement Division, GNLU

Topic :- "Two Decades of Geographical Indication (G.I.) Protection in India : Issues and Challenges"

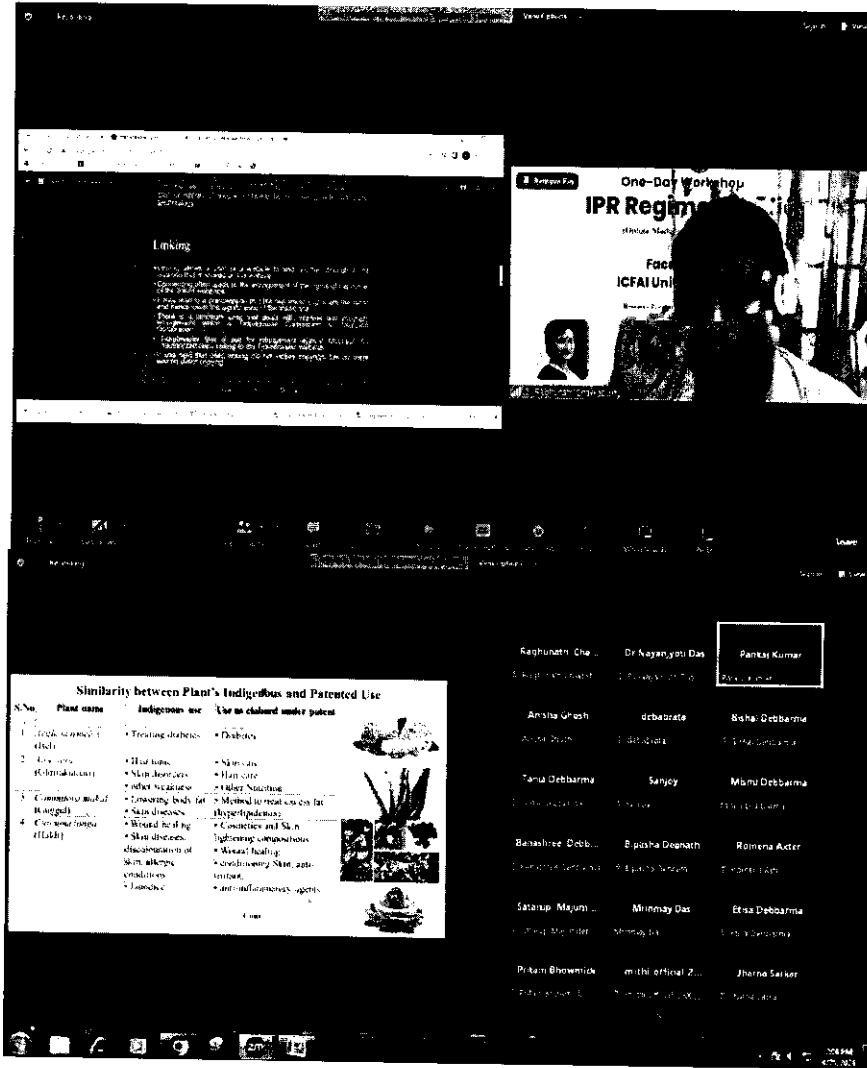

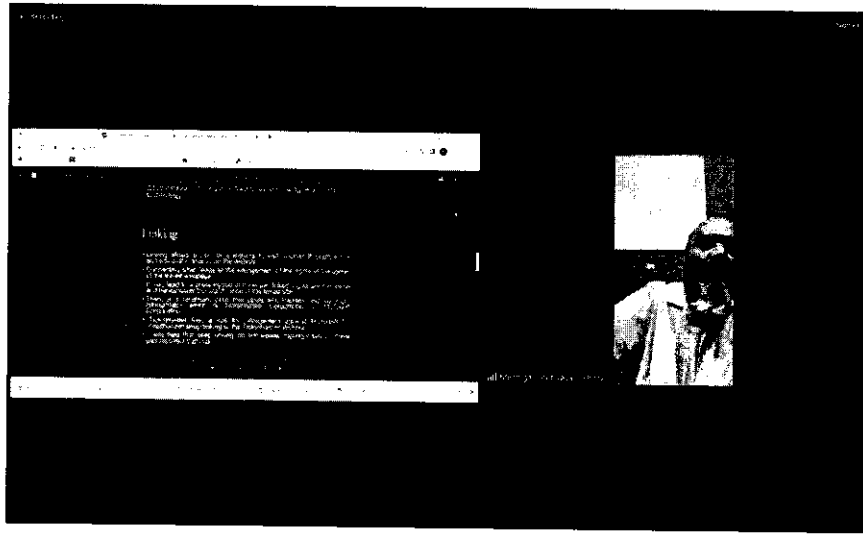

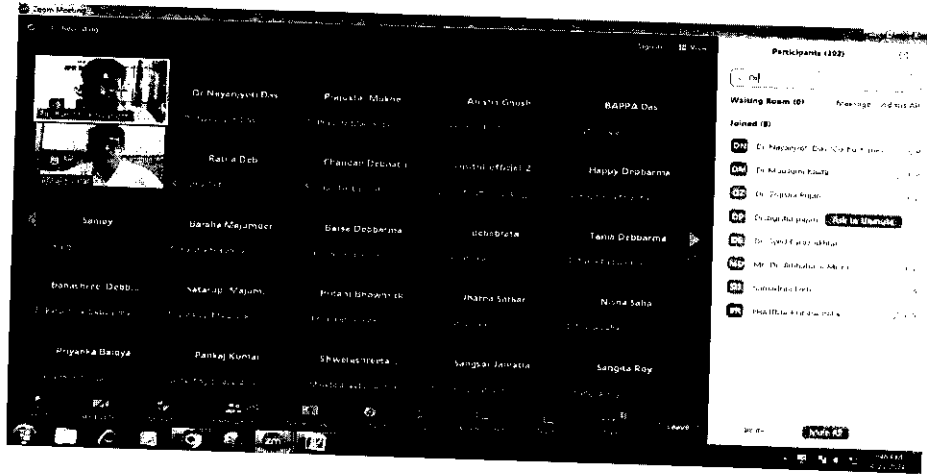

RATIONALE OF GI PROTECTION

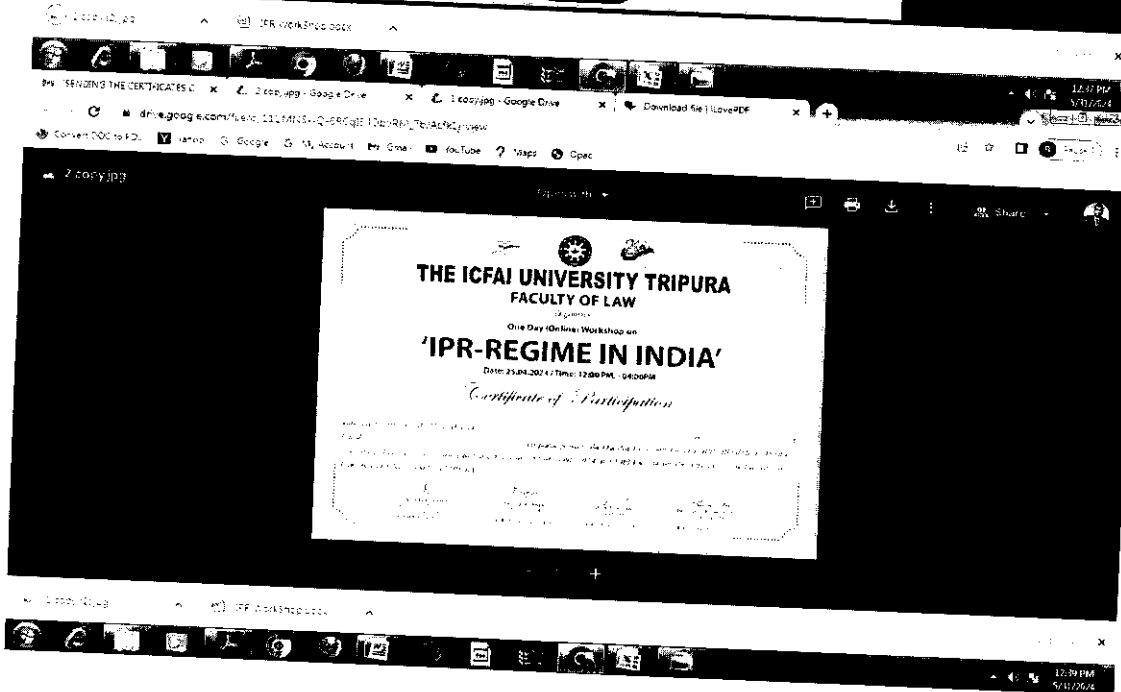

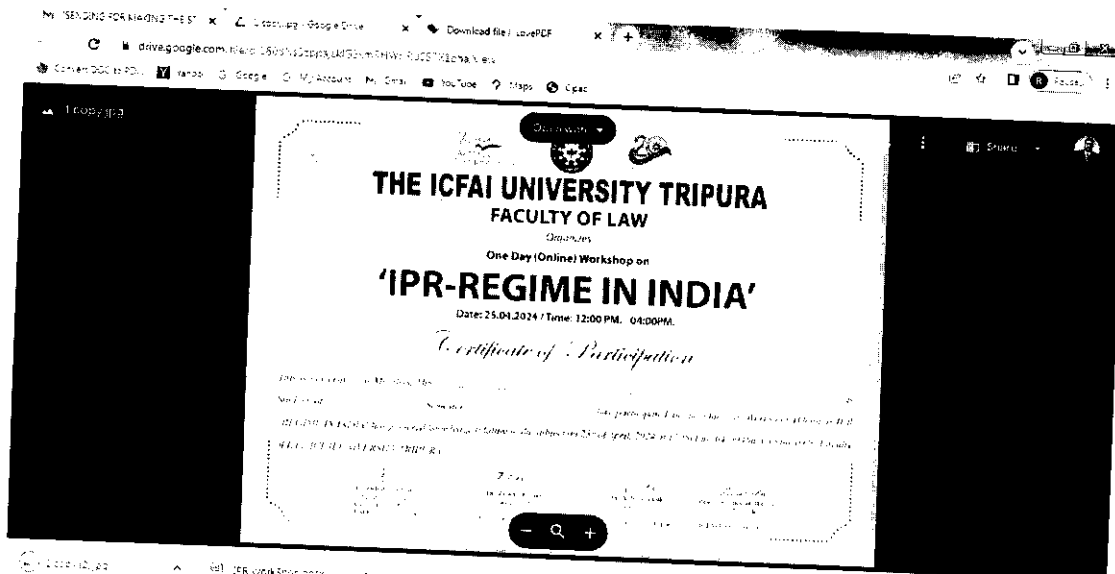

- 1999-2003 – G.I. Act was enforced ; World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) – was sleeping beauty before G.I. introduction (now provides appropriate protection to G.I.s)
- Rationale & Salient Features of G.I.s – S.2 : Uniqueness, Place of Product, People belonging to that region, Rights granted to a community, non transferable:- thus, G.I was created.
- Lacunas – Absence of Assigning, Licensing, Minimal protection of Natural Products (3%)
- Authorised user concept – someone who only has right to Use G.I tag product, also included perpetual succession – 10 Years + can be renewed forever
- Definition ‘goods’ – got widen for G.I. tags : Most famous Agriculture & Handloom & Handicraft goods(Maximum protection); sui generis system of protection
- Registered total G.I. tag – 642 products; 343 – Handloom & Handicraft, 200 Agriculture – Kesar, Mango, Darjeeling Tea etc.
- 5 Categories of different products are protected with the help of producers
- Existed gap in rights if G.I. – people themselves weren’t aware .i.e., Artisans themselves weren’t aware due to which pre registration challenges arose
- State & Company concerned to aid with concept of ‘local to global’ ; Post Registration – ‘Grey area’ ; no particular framework
- CoP – Code of Practice (method of making G.I), since G.I products has no logo, no additional mechanism, thus an identity establishment must be present, there was also rise of insufficient registration user due to lack of awareness
- Absence of inspection scheme , no structured member; thus proposed for body a body for inspection with composition and function for quality check of G.I products for G.I. tags
- Recommendation - Provide govt. Organizational scheme, post registration enforcement mechanism to be involved, States to be involved in providing funds, assistance and other necessity which is not present in post registration, G.I. Protection Council establishment – Sole authority to ensure other bodies function properly, proper G.I Database, mass awareness.
