In Reverent Memory of

Dr. N. J. Yasaswy
(9 February 1950 – 8 October 2011)

Dr. N. J. Yasaswy was a visionary educationist whose life was dedicated to redefining professional learning in India. When he founded the ICFAI Group in 1984, he did so with a conviction that education must be rigorous in intellect, firm in values, and transformative in impact. He did not aspire to build institutions that would merely confer degrees; he sought to create centers of excellence that would shape character, inspire integrity, and cultivate disciplined reasoning. He believed that universities must stand as enduring pillars of knowledge—institutions that would continue to grow, adapt, and contribute meaningfully to society for decades to come.

His dream was to see ICFAI Universities flourish as vibrant academic communities, producing professionals who combine competence with conscience. For students of law in particular, his vision carries profound significance: he wished to nurture advocates who argue with clarity, judges who decide with fairness, and citizens who uphold the rule of law with unwavering commitment. As ICFAI University Tripura organizes the National Moot Court Competition, we pay tribute to the ideals he held dear—intellectual rigor, ethical leadership, and service to justice. Though his presence is no longer among us, his guiding spirit continues to illuminate our path. The legacy he entrusted to this institution lives on, inspiring generations to strive for excellence and to uphold the values that define true education.

ABOUT MOOT COURT

Moot court is one of the most productive activities for law students. The proceedings in a moot court mirror real-life court proceedings. The purpose of the activity is to help law students understand how real courts work and their proper code of conduct, the importance of dress code and the use of formal language. Mooting is a great way to develop one's confidence, speaking, writing skills and research acumen. Participating in moot courts is not just great for budding advocates but also for future Judges and arbitrators. Most universities hold inter-college or intra college mooting sessions which gives students a chance to create network and work with their future competitors.

A moot court is a replica of real court proceedings. The purpose of moot court competitions is to make students aware of the court proceedings related to disputes between parties. These competitions are organised mostly in law schools for students who wish to pursue their careers as Lawyers, Judges and Arbitrators. This practice helps in the development of legal skills, research acumen and speaking skills. The process of mooting is not the same as public speaking or debating, moot courts are more interactive in nature and there is a scope of cross-questioning.

MOOT PROPOSITION

STATE OF INDICA VS. RHEA SHARMA

Rhea Sharma, aged 28, is an investigative journalist and founder of JanDarpan, a digital news platform specializing in reporting on governance, environmental issues, and human rights. Over the years, she has built a reputation for exposing corporate wrongdoing, administrative corruption, and violations of the rights of marginalized communities, particularly in scheduled areas. While her work has garnered public attention and acclaim, it has occasionally attracted controversy due to its critical focus on government and corporate actors.

In September 2025, JanDarpan released a 42-minute documentary titled “Silent Forests”, which investigated alleged unlawful land acquisitions by Minex Industries Ltd. , a private mining company operating in Virang, an Adivasi-majority district. The documentary included interviews with local residents, community leaders, and subject-matter experts. It documented claims of forced displacement, lack of informed consent, environmental degradation, and alleged collusion between local authorities and the corporation. The documentary also highlighted reported intimidation of local villagers by law enforcement. JanDarpan maintained that the documentary was based on field research, documents, and first-hand accounts, while noting that certain statements reflected the views of interviewees.

Within a week of the documentary’s release, protests erupted in Virang district. Thousands of people, including students and members of the Adivasi community, gathered to demand an investigation into Minex Industries Ltd. carrying a playcard portraying the picture of interviewer’s snapshots from the documentary namely “Silent Forests”. Although initially peaceful, the protest escalated into violent clashes with police, resulting in damage to public and private property estimated at approximately ₹1 crore, Injuries to 24 police personnel, Death of one protester.

Eyewitness reports indicated that both protestors and police were involved in acts of aggression, and that misinformation circulated on social media may have contributed to the escalation. Following the unrest, the State Police registered a First Information Report (FIR) against Rhea Sharma and three JanDarpan field reporters, who were involved in the making of the documentary and also belong to the Adivasi Community. The FIR alleged that the documentary had incited discord between communities, misled the public, and contributed to public disorder. The charges listed in the FIR included:

- Section 196 JNS – Promoting enmity between groups,
- Section 353 JNS – Statements conducive to public mischief,
- Section 61 JNS – Criminal conspiracy,
- Section 152 JNS – penalizing acts that endanger Sovereignty, Unity and Integrity of Nation

On 12th October 2025, the SP of virang district for tackling the gradual outrage of the protesters which is taking the nature of riot and to prevent the further damage of public property, passed an order for the seizure of all the related documents present in the newspaper agency and also for the immediate arrest of Rhea & others . As a result, on 14th October 2025 the Investigating officer along with his team raided the office of Rhea Sharma’s Newspaper Agency, seized the documents present in the newspaper agency and arrested Rhea along with other journalists and staffs present at the office at that time. After the arrest they were being held for interrogation for a long time which lacks the compliance of constitutional safeguard. After the arrest, the alleged accused Rhea Sharma has stated the following:

1. She was verbally abused and intimidated, with threatening remarks made during the arrest,
2. She was pressured to disclose confidential sources,
3. She was denied immediate access to legal counsel, and
4. She was held for several hours without being formally informed of the grounds for her arrest.

The State denied any harassment or abuse. Authorities stated that the arrest was conducted in accordance with procedure that female officers were present during the process and that Rhea was informed of the grounds for arrest. The State argued that the seizure of digital devices was necessary to preserve evidence related to public order violations and alleged criminal conspiracy, and that the documentary directly contributed to unrest, necessitating immediate intervention.

The case drew widespread attention. Media associations and journalist groups expressed concern about the potential impact on press freedom, while human rights organizations highlighted the importance of safeguarding individuals from arbitrary arrest or intimidation. Civil society organizations emphasized the need to protect marginalized communities and highlighted that the documentary raised issues of public interest.

Adding a contemporary dimension, the documentary included AI-enhanced visuals and reconstructions of events to illustrate complex situations in Virang. While Rhea Sharma asserted that these were clearly labeled based on scientific facts and used for the purpose to convey the narrative effectively, the State suggested that such techniques could have exaggerated certain events and contributed to public unrest.

The High Court of India is now required to address the competing claims and concerns. Rhea Sharma has filed a writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

Issues

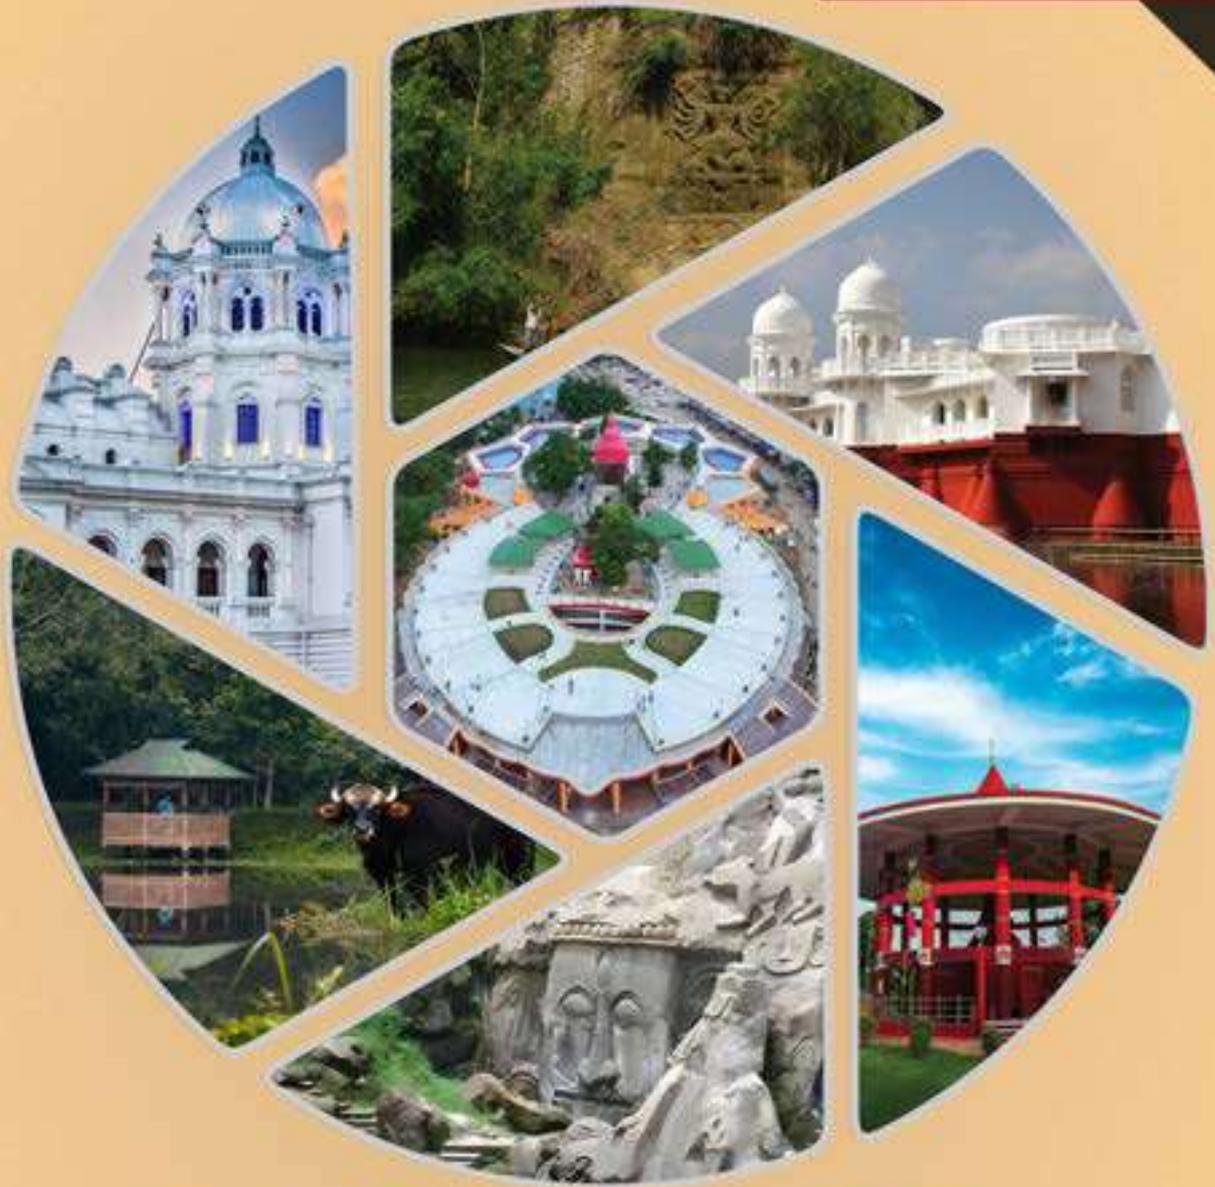

- I. Whether the actions of the State violated Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution of India, particularly the petitioner's right to freedom of speech and expression, including freedom of the press?
- II. Whether there is a contravention of the provisions of the Adivasi and Dalit (Prevention of atrocities) Act, 1989 in the present case?
- III. Whether the detention for such a long period of time is permissible within the legal framework?
- IV. Whether the Police Investigating Agency acted in compliance of the procedural requirements of arrest and detention under Jatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita?
