

Heartiest congratulations to the Department of Chemistry on the publication of their book Emerging Trends in Chemistry: Applications in Medicine, Catalysis, Nanotechnology, and the Environment (ISBN: 978-81-984952-1-1). The Book, edited by Dr. Swarnali Nath Choudhury, Dr. Ganesh Chandra Paul, and Dr. Tufan Singha Mahapatra, is a commendable contribution to the scientific community. It is poised to inspire interdisciplinary dialogue, foster innovative thinking, and stimulate further research at the interface of chemistry, medicine, materials science, and environmental technology.
